Dairy Products, Bread Consumer Prices Rising

Dairymen Blame U.S. Government Policy

By PAT PERRY

Prices of bread and dairy products went up today. Most local supermarkets hadn't started charging the increased prices this morning, but they will before the end of the week.

Bread is going to cost two to three cents more a loaf. Ice cream will climb 10 cents per half gallon. Cottage cheese will be three more cents a pound.

And another price raise is in the offing. It's probable that milk and cream prices will jump two to three cents a quart after Aug. 1.

The reason dairy product prices are going up is not the result of any direct increase in the state-controlled price paid dairymen for milk. It's because support prices the federal government guarantees for whole milk used in dairy products has increased recently from $3.50 per 100 pounds to $4.

These increased support prices raised the floor on market prices, and the producers are passing on the raises to the consumer, according to Louis E. Schafer, chief of the State Milk Stabilization Board.

ANNOY DAIRYMEN

And if the escalating prices annoy the housewife, they annoy the dairymen even more.

Al Pollard, manager of Associated Dairymen in Oakland, a group which includes most Marin dairymen, said today: "We're damn tired of taking the blame for inflationary prices. We think the consumer is getting wise."

Associated Dairymen has requested a raise of one cent a quart for whole milk. A decision on that increase is to be made by Charles Paul, state director of agriculture, about Aug. 1. Together with requested raises by distributors, the anticipated hike in whole milk prices then will be two to three cents a quart.

'CHAIN RESULT'

Schafer said today's increases are "a direct chain result" of the support price increases. The stabilization board has no control over price increases of the dairy products, he said.

Bread price raises weren't directly linked to the dairy products increases. Bakers blamed "more expensive ingredients," including flour, for the leap.

Why did they choose the same

West Germans Lose 61st Jet

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — West Germany lost its 61st F104G Starfighter jet today in a crash in the North Sea 10 miles off the island of Helgoland.

The West German Navy, in confirming the crash, said it had dispatched the destroyer Bavaria and several aircraft to search the crash site for any sign of the pilot.

The downed aircraft belonged to the Richthofen Squadron of the West German Army.

It was the 61st of the American-designed fighter-interceptors the West German armed forces have lost since they were put into service here in 1961.

Soviets Sending Missiles To Hanoi

COMBINED AP & UPI

LONDON—Authoritative sources said here today the Soviet bloc was readying major consignments of missiles for North Viet Nam and of experts to install or possibly even operate them.

The missiles are the first fresh supplies under the terms of last week's Warsaw Pact decision to step up aid to Hanoi, including "volunteers" if Ho Chi Minh asks for them.

The reliable sources said the experts will primarily instruct the Communist North Vietnamese in the use of the missiles but they may—for the first time—also help to operate them.

DIRECT CONTACT

This move, if carried out, could bring the United States and Russia into direct military confrontation.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk has warned the Soviet Union and its Warsaw Pact allies against sending "volunteers" to fight in Viet Nam. "It would be very unwise for them to get involved," he said.

In an exclusive interview with United Press International, made public Sunday, Rusk also demanded yesterday that North Viet Nam observe "normal, civilized" procedures in dealing with captured American airmen.

As in the matter of outside Communist intervention, he refused to say what the U.S. response might be if Hanoi carried out its threat to try American captives as war criminals.

FIRM STANDS

Rusk was adamant about U.S. determination to stand firm as long as necessary in Southeast Asia. His statement came in response to a question whether there was a "point in your own mind over which we cannot step" without bringing Red China into the war.

North Viet Nam made an unusual appeal today for more material and moral support from its Communist allies and other nations, describing its war situation as "extremely serious." But Red China indicated it is not ready to send its soldiers into the fight.

The plea came from North Viet Nam's Fatherland Front and was addressed even to the American people in an effort to weaken the Johnson administration's political flank at home. It followed President Ho Chi Minh's decree of partial mobilization of North Vietnamese reserves yesterday.

The mobilization decree touched off speculation that North Viet Nam planned to send more regular troops into the South in reply to the intensified American air war, using the reserves to fill gaps at home.

Red China reacted to the mobilization decree by offering again "to take all necessary actions" in support of the North Vietnamese but implied it thought they could win with their own forces. An editorial in the official Peking People's Daily said the decree showed "the unshakeable confidence of the Vietnamese people in their resolve to fight and win."

Marines Stop Red Offensive Near Border

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Marines pushing through jungled mountains near the North Vietnamese border have killed 148 Communist regulars and thwarted a major offensive in the largest Leatherneck operation of the war, U.S. officials said today.

Backed up by massive raids from high-flying B-52 bombers and their numbers swelled to more than 7,000 by Marines from Operation Deck House II, a related amphibious operation, units of the Second Marine Division pushed slowly through a vast region less than 10 miles from the demilitarized zone dividing North and South Viet Nam.

The Communists had established training grounds and rest centers in the area, which also is near the Laotian frontier, U.S. officials said. The Leathernecks were pushing through a vast region less than 10 miles from the demilitarized zone dividing North and South Viet Nam. The Communists were reported trying to establish a beachhead in the northwest corner of South Viet Nam near the Laotian frontier.

A U.S. officer said only "Lizards and Communists" lived in the rugged mountain area before a Marine and government task force moved into the region last Friday in Operation Hastings.

Spokesmen in Saigon meanwhile reported U.S. Navy and Air Force planes yesterday flew 108 missions over the North, striking oil storage depots and transportation facilities in the southern Panhandle region. Two planes were lost but their three crewmen all were rescued.

Pilots reported sighting 35 fires and hearing 51 secondary explosions after a raid on the Badon oil storage facility.

Daniel Francis McManus, 73, of 915 Irwin Street, had fallen on the sidewalk at Fourth Street and Tamalpais Avenue and cut his forehead.

The three boys, Edward J. Muscolino, 13, of 34 Oakland Avenue; Daniel R. Niblock, 14, of 41 Madrone Avenue; and Daniel J. Dibert, 13, of 15 Carolina Avenue, tried to help McManus, then called police for help.

McManus was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Justice Douglas Asks Visa For Red China

A State Department spokesman said yesterday Douglas applied for permission last week shortly after the department announced an easing of its ban on travel to Red China.

Authorities Delay Arraignment Of Chicago Mass Murder Suspect

CHICAGO (UPI) — Robert Speck, 24, the drifter accused of the slaying of eight nurses, was pronounced too ill for arraignment today and in no condition to be confronted by the sole survivor of the massacre.

Corazon Amurao, 23, the Philippine nurse who hid under a bed during the orgy of stabbing and strangling, was brought to the jail where Speck was in a hospital bed but she left without seeing him.

Cook County State's Atty. Dannel P. Ward said that the jail physician, Dr. William Norcross, reported Speck to be in no condition to be taken to court. Speck lost a large amount of blood after gashing his arms with a broken wine bottle in a skid row flophouse Saturday night.

Miss Amurao, who had identified Speck as the killer from photographs and who herself had been in a hospital under sedation, spent about an hour in the jail but she did not enter the room where Speck is held.

Authorities were bending over backwards not to prejudice their case in view of the recent Supreme Court ruling on the rights of accused persons. So far as could be determined, no one had yet even questioned Speck about the mass slayings.

Miss Amurao entered the jail yard through the front gate in a Cadillac. She wore a dark blue-green dress and was accompanied by a nurse in a white uniform. The jail was under heavy guard. Scores of newsmen, television cameramen and the curious milled outside.

Dr. Norcross said Speck had been given sedation yesterday and again today. Ward told newsmen the arraignment might be held tomorrow if Speck's condition permits.

The families and friends of two of the eight student nurses slain in Chicago's worst mass murder celebrated Requiem Masses for the young women today.

In separate ceremonies, mourners paid their last respects to Mary Ann Jordan, 20, at Our Lady of Peace Church, and Patricia Matusek, 20, at Holy Rosary Slovak Church.

Separate funeral services were also being held today for Suzanne Farris, 21; Nina Schmale, 24; and Pamela Wilkening, 22.

Speck was captured almost by accident, in a Skid Row flophouse yesterday. He had tried to gash himself to death with a broken wine bottle.

Policemen answering a routine call found him on a blood-soaked mattress in the Skid Row hotel. It wasn't until Speck was rushed to a hospital that a young doctor washed the blood from his arm and found the identifying tattoo: "Born to raise hell."

The police had their man. Chicago police, posting a 24-

National Guard Removed As Calm Returns To Chicago's West Side

CHICAGO (AP) — Twenty-seven hundred Illinois National Guardsmen were removed early today from Chicago's West Side where they had spent three nights in a Negro district scarred by rioting.

Some 1,236 administrative and supply personnel got the first word from their commander, Maj. Gen. Francis P. Kane of the 33rd Infantry Division of the Illinois National Guard, at midnight and went home.

Three hours later, 1,465 other guardsmen left the streets, but they went to armories in the city, on standby duty.

Kane said, "At the present time, we plan to put troops on the street again Monday night." Kane said that after a three-and-one-half hour tour of the West Side area he had noted there were fewer incidents and that the district appears to be returning to normal.

EMERGENCY PLAN
Police — operating under an emergency plan since the looting, shooting and burning reached a peak last Thursday — said morning patrols would be normal.

Gov. Otto Kerner, after a surprise tour of the West Side area yesterday said: "We are hopeful that law and order have been restored."

There have been scattered incidents nightly. In one, early today, a guardsman reported that a Negro had fired at him and fled. Police said the shot, which missed, came from an alley that was the scene of the shooting of a police officer, the killing of a Negro and the wounding of another at the riot's height.

Taverns and pool halls in the area, closed by the disturbance, were allowed to reopen yesterday.

Plane Strike Negotiations Still Lagging

WASHINGTON (UPI) — While lagging negotiations showed little promise of ending the nation's biggest airline strike, thousands of exasperated air travelers today faced new troubles.

In Dallas, it was reported some airlines still flying were beginning to cancel flights because boosted schedules were taking a heavy toll of equipment. Nearly all flights to New York and Chicago were late leaving.

LONG REPAIRS

Aircraft were being pulled out of service for repairs that in some cases were taking a long time. Mechanics were just too overloaded to get them fixed.

In addition to what a Labor Department spokesman called "extremely slow" movement toward settling their differences, the negotiators were meeting under the threat that the union would walk away from the bargaining table.

In a side issue, the IAM's chief spokesman, Joseph W. Ramsey, alleged one of the airlines involved was soliciting paying passengers under the guise of military charters.

MILITARY SERVICE

He said the actions by Northwest Airlines were a violation of a strike agreement to continue service only for "authorized military movements." The airline has not commented on the issue.

Harried travelers, meantime, were forced to stand by for long hours if they hoped to get on any of the airliners still operating. Major airports across the country reported reservations booked ahead anywhere from four days to the rest of July. The last-minute traveler's only hope was a cancellation.

Northwest and the other four struck carriers—United, Eastern, National and Trans World—account for 60 per cent of the nation's air traffic, some 150,000 passengers a day.

FTC To Study Flameproofing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) is going to study whether to issue a new rule that manufacturers make children's clothing flameproof.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., of the Senate Commerce Committee said during the weekend that FTC chairman Paul Rand Dixon had advised him the study would be made. Magnuson asked the FTC to look into the problem because current laws do not require flameproofing.

The senator was told by Dr. Abraham B. Bergman, director of outpatient services at Seattle's Children's Orthopedic Hospital, that there have been several cases where children's clothing or costumes have caught fire and flared up, causing serious burns.

Racial Disturbance In Fillmore District

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cries of "Down with whites, Kill whites" touched off a brief disturbance in San Francisco's main Negro district after a patrolman shot a youth and stopped a robbery, police said.

The patrolman and the bandit are Negroes. The robbery victims are white.

"A few trouble-makers, roaming through the area, shouted 'Down with whites, Kill whites,'" said James Pigott, a San Francisco patrolman. "They tried unsuccessfully to incite a real riot. When they couldn't get something going, they abandoned it."

The Fillmore District disturbance yesterday began when an off-duty officer, Herman George, shot Frank Lee Jackson, 21, in the chest.

A crowd of 200 to 250 persons gathered, some shouting "Uncle Tom must die!" and "We won't let whitey get away with this."

George called for an ambulance and police, issuing a riot call, sent 30 patrol cars.

A Negro youth, Clifford Simmons, alias Jaron Scott, 18, was charged with interfering with an officer. George said Simmons threatened him.

A gasoline bomb was thrown later into the Afro-American Cultural Center as white and black youths left a dance. Police said they were not certain the bombing was connected with the arrest two blocks away.

Police Sgt. James Glafkides reported that bands of Negro

Radioactivity From PG&E Plant Told

SAN CLEMENTE (UPI) — A conservation organization charged today that the Pacific Gas & Electric Company's Humboldt Bay atomic power plant was causing "serious radioactive pollution of the region."

The charge was made by David Pesonen, executive secretary of the Northern California Assn. to Preserve Bodega Head and Harbor.

CHILDREN GET DOSES

He told the Assembly Committee on Industrial Relations that children in the South Bay Union Elementary School downwind from the plant had been receiving radiation doses from gas emitted by the reactor that were two to three times above the normal level.

"It is entirely possible that the seeds of future cancer cases in those children have already been planted by this radioactive contamination," he said.

Pesonen said his testimony was based on reports made by PG&E now on file at the Atomic Energy Commission office in Berkeley.

EXPERT TESTIMONY

The committee is hearing testimony from experts on atomic power safety, primarily in connection with Southern California Edison Company's new atomic power plant now under construction here.

Pesonen, whose testimony was read into the record by Assemblyman Mervyn Dymally, D-Los Angeles, chairman of the committee, said PG&E had applied to the AEC for a "four - fold increase in the licensed ceiling on permissible (radioactive gas) releases" from the Humboldt plant.

"If the nuclear industry is allowed to continue as ... PG&E has demonstrated at Humboldt," Penosen said, "we will find ourselves threatened by a new and far more deadly form of air pollution at the very moment that we are beginning to talk about coping with more traditional pollutants."

He said the state Department of Public Health should start a radiation monitoring program at the South Bay school. He said the program should include "film badges for each child, inspected daily by qualified surveillance personnel."

Tidelands Purchase To Be Asked

County purchase of 250 acres of diked tidelands in Corte Madera for a public dump and golf course will be proposed to the board of supervisors tomorrow by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

He said today he would propose purchase of the property owned by Domenick Muzzi, which he thought could be obtained for about $3,000 an acre.

GOLF COURSE

Half the land would be offered to the Town of Corte Madera for a public golf course, and the other half used for a sanitary land fill dump.

The Muzzi acreage, on the east side of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks, is south of a 100-acre parcel owned by W. J. Heerdt, which Corte Madera Town Council proposed last year be used for a public dump and later converted to a municipal golf course.

Supervisors held off action on purchasing the Heerdt acreage after hearing complaint by Ann H. McCorry, secretary of the Greenbrae Boardwalk Improvement Club. Since then, Frank Burke has obtained an option on the land and has an application before the Bay Conservation and Development Commission for permission to fill it. He proposed a land fill dump, for eventual development of a nine-hole golf course and a commercial marina.

The Muzzi property is already diked and filling it would not require a BCDC permit.

Kettenhofen said he will propose that the purchase be underwritten by the county retirement board, which expressed interest in the former proposal. The retirement board will meet to consider it Thursday, he said.

ROYALTY FILL

Kettenhofen's proposal would solve a dispute with Muzzi over the payment of royalty for fill from Corte Madera Creek dredging in the flood control project, most of which is to go on Muzzi's land. Muzzi has refused to pay the state's required 5 cents a cubic yard royalty for the fill, agreeing to only 2.5 cents, Kettenhofen said. Taxpayers in the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control District would have to pick up the difference, probably about $9,000.

If the property were purchased by the county, no royalty charge would be required by the state, Kettenhofen said.

Novato School Budget On Tap

Novato Unified School District Trustees will adopt a budget for fiscal 1967 for publication when they meet at 8 p.m. today in the administration building.

The board has approved a preliminary budget of $6,397,427, which calls for no change in the tax rate of $5.19 per $100 assessed valuation.

The board will also consider bids for a new school bus, and hear a report on the state reading tests.

hour-a-day guard around Speck's hospital bed in the Bridewell House of Correction, emphasized they were not going to question Speck themselves. That will be up to the office of State's Atty. Daniel P. Ward.

After a nine-hour conference with prosecutors and detectives broke up last night, Ward said he expected to get a statement from Speck today.

Police said last night they had recovered a 12-inch hunting knife Speck had sold to a tavern buddy for $1 a few hours after the murders were discovered Thursday. Crime laboratory technicians were examining the weapon.

While Speck prepared for his first day in court, five victims of one of the worst mass murders in modern times were to be buried. One of the slain student nurses was buried Saturday. The bodies of two more were being returned to their native Philippines.

The manhunt for Speck—and even his capture—were marked by irony. Police officers staked out at a maritime union hiring hall a block from the murdered girls' townhouse apartment, talked to Speck on the telephone only hours after the murders were discovered. They tried to lure him to the hall with the promise of a berth on a ship to New Orleans, but he smelled danger.

Through the weekend, Speck ran the haunted race through Skid Row bars and bad hotels, once slipping away from a police stakeout by minutes.

By another quirk of fate, one of the attending nurses during the operation to close Speck's wounds at Cook County was a Filipino, a friend, and former schoolmate of Corazon Amurao. She helped save his life.

It was the end of the trail of the drifter who was born in Monmouth, Ill., moved to Dallas with his widowed mother when he was six, got married, fathered a child, and afterwards did little that was creditable.

He followed the lure of the seas, and left a wake of violence. Police want to question him about murders and assaults in Monmouth, in Dallas, and in Sydney, Australia.

Alternate Development To Be Studied

The Marin County Airport Commission tomorrow will explore an alternate county airport development, using only half of the property needed in the original proposal for expansion.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center.

The alternate is one that might be followed if federal aviation agency funds are not approved for the Marin project.

The answer to the county application for funds is not expected until September. Meanwhile, an option on the land held by W. Q. Wright, about half the land needed for the federal project, will expire in August.

The alternate plan, said Asst. Public Works Director Arthur T. Knutson, would be improvement of the present runway. Realignment as proposed in the federal project cannot be done without purchase of property to the north from the Bodkin estate.

Woman Treated For Wrist Cuts

Mrs. Isaac B. Boykin, 28, of 17 Merrydale Road, Apt. 15, San Rafael Meadows, suffered self-inflicted cuts of both wrists at her home yesterday at 10:11 a.m., the sheriff's office reported.

Boykin told officers he and his wife started to have an argument when his wife took two razor blades and slashed her wrists. She ran from the apartment to a washroom at the back where she was found bleeding, the sheriff's office reported.

Mrs. Boykin was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Man Collapses—Condition Fair

Alton Arthur Morgan, 40, of 22 Brookdale Avenue, San Rafael, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Morgan was taken to the hospital late Sunday afternoon after he collapsed at home. His son, Michael Alton Morgan, said his father suddenly had difficulty breathing. San Rafael Fire Department responded with a resuscitator, and United Ambulance took Morgan to the hospital.

Woman Dies After Aiding Girl's Mother

A 44-year-old Corte Madera woman shot herself to death Saturday, three days after the similar death of a close friend's 17-year-old daughter.

The body of Colleen May was found at her home at 70 Lucky Drive by her daughter, Laurie Dee, 15, when the latter returned shortly before noon after spending the night with friends.

Laurie told sheriff's deputies she had been staying with friends while her mother stayed at the home of Mrs. Bernard F. Gira to console Mrs. Gira over the suicide of the latter's daughter, Teresa Ann on Wednesday.

Teresa shot herself with a .22 caliber revolver at her home at 1411 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, after a double date, during which she had said she wanted "to take a trip with God."

Laurie said Mrs. May had phoned her Friday and had been "upset there were no flowers on Teresa's grave," which her mother had just visited.

Mrs. May, an unemployed market research interviewer, has lived in Marin for two and one-half years. She and her husband, Edwin May, were divorced some years ago.

She is survived also by two other children, Fred, 13, and Judy, 13; and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hansen of San Gabriel.

Private funeral will be held tomorrow at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Finch Asks Repeal Of Rumford Act

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Robert H. Finch, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, says he and gubernatorial candidate Ronald Reagan want repeal of the Rumford Act, the state's fair-housing law.

Finch, a Los Angeles lawyer, said yesterday in a television interview, "I think we can get a better law" than the Rumford Act which has "some inequities."

The Rumford Act, passed by the legislature in 1963, is intended to prohibit racial discrimination in the sale or rental of houses. The law was voided in 1964 by an initiative constitutional amendment—Proposition 13—but the State Supreme Court ruled Proposition 14 unconstitutional last May.

Finch said he sees a system under which a person charging discrimination in housing can have a hearing in a law court.

Status Report To Be Heard

The Educational Services Committee of the Marin County Board of Education will hear a status report on the controversial Project Head Start at its meeting tonight.

The committee will meet at 7 p.m. in the county schools office at 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

The Administrative Services and Special Education Committees will meet at 8 p.m., and the Residential Education Committee at 9 p.m.

Citizens Rights To Be Discussed

The rights and responsibilities, of citizens who face arrest will be discussed at a public meeting at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The meeting is sponsored by the Marin chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union. Speakers include Marin Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and Marin attorneys Carl Shapiro and Richard Breiner. Chairman will be Benjamin Dreyfus.

Irving R. Cohen of Mill Valley, publicity chairman for ACLU, announced that a question and answer period will follow the discussion.

Judge Dismisses Bad Check Charge

A felony bad check charge against Rodney A. Smalley, 28, has been dismissed following a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ruled there was insufficient identification of the suspect to hold him for superior court trial. Smalley, of San Geronimo and Mill Valley, had been charged with passing $160 in worthless checks in Fairfax and San Anselmo from May 8 to June 21.

day for the hike? A spokesman for Purity Stores said, "They just couldn't stand the prices any more."

Bread manufactured by Langendorf and Blue Seal was two cents a loaf higher in all Bay Area stores today. Tomorrow, Kilpatrick's breads will increase, too, with other major independent bakers following the lead by the end of the week.

The increases were evidently staggered to soften the blow to the consumer. Major supermarket chains who manufacture their own bread are expected to follow the trend—but not until later this week.

A spokesman for Safeway Stores in Oakland said: "We will be discussing the price of bread later this week. We bake our own bread and will have to go over prices with plant managers. There's no indication yet how much the increase will be."

Purity Stores will also discuss possible increases in their bread brands during this week. Both supermarket chains indicated prices of their own brands of ice cream and cottage cheese will have to be increased, probably later this week.

Average price of half a gallon of ice cream in local supermarkets is currently 79 cents half a gallon. This will jump to 89 cents. Cottage cheese will go from an average 31 cents a pound to about 34 cents a pound.

School Given Approval Amid Protest

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill today gave tentative approval for establishment of a school for eight emotionally disturbed children in Kentfield, over-ruling protests of neighbors.

Neighbors argued that the permit would be an opening wedge in destroying the residential character of the area.

The school is proposed by the Tamalpais Montessori Center, southwest of the intersection of Geary Avenue and Toussin Street, just south of Ross General Hospital.

Dr. William M. Lamers, with an adjacent medical office, will be medical director of the school. He said it will operate with one teacher and an assistant and volunteers.

Mrs. Wallace E. McDonald of 5 Altamira Avenue, Kentfield, protesting on behalf of residents near the property, declared the location seemed to be at the convenience of Dr. Lamers rather than the children.

Appeal Hearing On Olema Hotel

The County Board of Appeals Wednesday will set a date for hearing Mrs. Ruth M. Ruoff's appeal on the county building department's order that the Olema Hotel, owned by Mrs. Ruoff, be demolished as a fire hazard.

Building Inspector J. Richard Dawe had given her formal notice that the building must be demolished by Sunday, but the hotel is still standing. Dawe said he will take no further action until the appeal board makes a ruling.

Howard K. Morehouse, a San Rafael attorney, will represent Mrs. Ruoff before the board. Morehouse declined to say on what grounds the appeal will be made. The board meets at 2 p.m. at the Civic Center.

Frothing Fox Shot By Police

A fox, though to be rabid, was shot Saturday by Novato police and turned over to the Marin County Health Department for analysis.

Robert William Pankratz of 37 Forest Road, Novato, reported at 8:25 a.m. Saturday that the fox was running in circles in his front yard and frothing at the mouth.

Police found the fox on nearby Ridge Road and shot it.

Two Injured As Cycle Overtakes

Two persons suffered multiple cuts when their motorcycle overturned on highway 101 near Hamilton Air Force at 1 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Robert P. Watto, 34, of Pacifica, the driver, was thrown from the cycle when a rear tire blew, patrol reported. He suffered cuts of his right ankle and right elbow.

Loretta Wartox, 25, of Daly City, a passenger, was caught under the motorcycle when it toppled over. She was cut on face, knees and left elbow. Both were treated at Marin General Hospital.

OBITUARIES

Jean Marie Pierotti, 47, Succumbs

Jean Marie Pierotti died unexpectedly last night at her home at 33 College Court, Kentfield. She was 47.

She and her husband, Arthur Pierotti, were entertaining friends, when Mrs. Pierotti excused herself and went to a bedroom where she collapsed and died.

An autopsy was to be performed.

A native of San Francisco, Mrs. Pierotti was educated at St. Rose's Academy there and at Dominican College of San Rafael.

She had lived in Marin since her marriage 25 years ago and was an active member of Sunny Hills.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. David Scott of San Rafael and Janice Pierotti of Kentfield; a sister, Mrs. Thomas Cargill of Arlington, Va.; her mother, Mrs. Florence Hutton of Kentfield, and one grandchild.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Thursday at Keaton's, San Rafael. Memorial contributions to favorite charities are preferred by the family.

DONALD SCHWAB

Donald Schwab, a Kentfield resident for 15 years and an engineer for KGO-TV in San Francisco, died yesterday, apparently of a heart attack, in the station's control room.

Schwab, 54, had worked as an engineer for the television station for 17 years. He was also a representative of Waddell and Reed, Inc., national distributor of the United Funds group of mutual funds of Kansas City, Mo. He lived at 333 Crown Road in Kentfield.

He was a member of Cedar River Lodge 89, Fullerton, Neb.; Mill Valley Chapter 108, Royal Arch Masons; Marin Commandery 73, Knights Templars; Islam Temple of the Shrine, and Marin Shrine Club.

He is survived by his wife, Jeanne Schwab of Kentfield, his mother, Mrs. Rose Joy of Exeter, Neb.; his half-brother, Warren D. Joy of Ohio, a stepbrother, Raymond Joy of Bakersfield and a step-sister, Mrs. Buelah Bergman of Los Angeles.

An autopsy was to be performed at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

MRS. MYRNA BLUM

Private funeral for Mrs. Myrna Blum of Sausalito was held yesterday at Sinai Memorial Chapel, San Francisco.

Inurnment was at Home of Peace Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Blum died at her home at 33 Monte Mar Drive Friday, apparently of a heart attack.

She had recently returned from a trip to Russia.

Mrs. Blum, 58, was a native of Arizona and had lived six years in Marin County. She had worked for Leon Livingston Advertising Co. She was a member of the Sausalito Woman's Club.

She is survived by her husband, Ernest E. Blum, a San Francisco stockbroker, and two sons, Leon M. and Paul M. Blum.

SAMUEL BURY

Funeral for Samuel Bury, 84, a resident of Marin for 30 years, will be tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Bury, a former resident of Point Reyes Station, died Thursday in a local convalescent hospital after a long illness.

He was born in Russia, and came to California and Marin County 30 years ago. He served 17 years in the Navy, including service during World War I.

Bury will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

MRS. HORTON

Funeral for Mrs. Zola Mae Horton of El Sobrante, a former resident of San Rafael, will be tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the chapel of the Mission Bells, San Pablo.

Mrs. Horton, 80, died Saturday in an El Cerrito hospital. She was born in Vandalia, Iowa, and lived in San Rafael before moving to El Sobrante.

She is survived by her husband, Floyd Horton of El Sobrante; a daughter, Mrs. Myra M. Taylor of El Sobrante; a son, Edwin Haas of Des Moines, Iowa; a sister, Mary Deakin of Des Moines, and two grandchildren.

Burial will be in Rolling Hills Memorial Park, Richmond.

HELEN RUSSELL

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Helen Victoria Crocker Russell, a leader of the San Francisco cultural establishment, died last night in Children's Hospital at the age of 69.

Mrs. Russell, daughter of banker William H. Crocker, was a trustee of the San Francisco Museum of Art, a past president of the San Francisco Opera Guild, past president of the Community Chest, vice president of the United Bay Area Crusade, and a leading member of the Palace of the Legion of Honor.

She served on President Eisenhower's advisory Committee on the Fine Arts and was reappointed in 1963 by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to a new four-year term on the Board of Trustees of Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute.

She was married to Henry Potter Russell, who died in 1943.

MRS. WALLACE

Funeral for Mrs. Alice L. Wallace, 74, of Petaluma, former long time resident of Tomales, will be tomorrow at 11 a.m. at Parent Funeral Chapel in Petaluma.

She died at her home, 500 Ormsby Lane, Petaluma, Saturday. She was born in Someo, Switzerland, and came to California in 1908. She lived most of her life in Tomales, and moved to Petaluma about 10 years ago.

Survivors include her daughter, Mrs. William Drew of Petaluma.

Burial will be in Protestant Cemetery, Tomales.

THURMOND JEAN

Thurmond Aubra Jean, 57, of Tamalpais Valley, died early today at his home at 410 Ash Street, apparently of a heart attack.

Jean, superintendent of American Building and Maintenance Co. in San Francisco, returned from San Francisco at about 3:30 a.m.

Mrs. Jean told Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley that she was awakened by a noise and overheard a dog barking. She then found her husband on the closet floor where he apparently had been undressing.

Jean had been in failing health for the last 12 years. He had lived 34 years in California and six years in Marin. He was born in Texas.

He is survived by his wife, Shirley; three children, James, Joann and Jody; his mother, Laura Jean of Killen, Tex.; four sisters and a brother, all of Texas.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

WILLIAM PARKER

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—William H. Parker, who tangled with crime cartels, civil rights leaders and state officials during 15 years as the city's chief of police, will be buried Wednesday with full military honors.

Parker, 64, died Saturday night after collapsing at a Marine veterans banquet. Parker, who joined the Los Angeles police force as a patrolman in 1927 and became its chief in 1951, had undergone surgery last October at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., for removal of an aneurysm of the aorta. He had resumed his duties when further heart trouble forced him to take sick leave March 4. He returned to duty again last month.

When Parker took over as chief, the Los Angeles police force was reeling from a year-old scandal involving numerous high-ranked officers accused of being overly friendly with gambler Mickey Cohen.

Parker, a skilled administrator who used an iron hand in dealing with criminal elements, demanded absolute honesty and efficiency from his force of 5,000 men.

He often warned that the United States was on a collision course with disaster because of decaying morality and the growth of crime.

"I think I have to conclude that this civilization will destroy itself as others have before it," he said recently. "That leaves only one question—when?"

Recent U. S. Supreme Court decisions, which Parker said made police pander criminals, were responsible for the growing crime rate, he charged. He also was critical of mothers who worked when they could afford to remain at home.

When the city was hit by the Watts riots in August, 1965, some Negro leaders blamed Parker, claiming he permitted harassment and brutality and had a double standard of dealing with whites and negroes.

Many demanded his removal from office, but Parker replied: "I will decide when I leave the police department I do not intend to let any group dictate to me when I should leave."

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

YMCA Still Offering Signups For Camping

Marin YMCA summer camp registrations now total 275 but places still remain open in all individual camping programs, according to officials.

Fifty boys aged 7 to 9 years are registered in a day camp in Deer Park Canyon, to which daily round trip transportation is provided. With the first two-week session under way, two additional sessions will start on July 25 and Aug. 15.

The residence camp for boys between 9 and 14 has a registration of 75, with sign-ups still open. Y-Camp in Jones Gulch is on 900 acres of redwood land in the Santa Cruz mountains and campers from throughout Marin will leave Aug. 7 for an eight-day session.

A Y Caravan Camp to Bar 41 Ranch in Washington will leave Aug. 4 for three weeks of summer activity for boys and girls 12 to 15 years old, including two weeks of ranch life and a side trip to Victoria, B.C.

Bolinas Utility Board Sees Bids

R. W. Johnston and son of Alameda was apparent low bidder for replacing water lines on Bolinas Highlands when bids were opened at a meeting of the Bolinas Public Utility District Board Friday night.

The Johnston tender of $13,700 compared with an apparent second best bid of $14,800 by Soiland Co.

Decision on award will be made by the board at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 5 in the Waterhouse Building.

The board ordered investigation of the cost and availability of additional water sources, probably by obtaining further supply from Bolinas Creek north of the Bolinas School. A report will be submitted at the Aug. 5 meeting.

Three-Car Crash Hurts Petaluman

Joel Brower, 29, of Petaluma, was given emergency treatment at Marin General Hospital yesterday afternoon for an apparent in a three-car collision on Highway 101.

Brower was a passenger in a sedan driven by his wife, Mrs. M. A. Brower, 24, northbound just north of Linden Lane in San Rafael. When traffic suddenly slowed the Brower car was struck from behind by a car driven by San Francisco attorney William H. Orrick Jr.

This drove the Brower vehicle forward into the rear of a third car driven by John S. Baldwin of 202 Meda Lane, Strawberry, according to a California Highway Patrol report.

School Board Plans Citizens Committee

Trustees attending a meeting of San Anselmo School District Board tomorrow will go equipped with names for a citizens committee which could help them answer a $650,000 question.

If formed, the committee would make a study and advise the board on whether a bond issue or a tax rate increase is better for raising money to complete the district's planned building program. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., in the faculty room at Isabel Cook School.

Two Motorists Sentenced For Drunken Driving

Floyd Leo James, 48, was given a suspended six months county jail term on condition that he serve 60 days yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving with a prior conviction.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas ruled that if James commits himself to a hospital for treatment as an alcoholic, he need serve only 30 days.

James, of 106 Hilarita Apartments, Tiburon, was arrested Jan. 30 on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by California Highway Patrol.

Duane Clinton Hansen, 31, of 78 San Benito Way, Novato, and Joseph Ramon Ibanez, 23, of 52 Summit Drive, Corte Madera, were each fined $276 and placed on six months probation for drunken driving.

Both were arrested on Highway 101 by the patrol, Hansen on June 30 and Ibanez on July 9.

The Belvedere Planning Commission will study a proposed amendment to the building code clarifying the use and construction of secondary dwellings in residential zones at its 8 p.m. meeting today in community hall.

Commission To Meet

San Rafael Planning Seats May Be Filled By Council

Appointments to two places on the city planning commission will be considered by the San Rafael City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. today deal with a crowded agenda of old and new business.

The terms of V. Judson Klein and John A. Miskimen on the commission expired June 30. Klein has advised the council he would accept another four-year appointment.

Two public hearings on signs are scheduled at the start of the council meeting: an appeal by B and W Development Co. from planning commission decision of a permit for a sign on Lincoln Avenue, and revocation of a sign permit granted International House of Pancakes.

Dan Coleman and Associates will explain the need for additional excavation at Santa Margarita Valley Park, estimated to cost not more than $800.

A proposed agreement between the city and the school districts for the year's recreation program, and another with the county for extension of the senior citizen program will be presented for approval.

The council is expected to act on restoring parking limits on

Cogswell College Not Defunct As Listed

Cogswell Polytechnical College was erroneously described as "the now-defunct Cogswell School" in an article in the Independent-Journal June 30.

The college will celebrate its 80th anniversary next March and has recently received national recognition for its direction of the pre-technology program in several Bay Area high schools under a Ford Foundation grant.

Fairfax Trustee Meeting Slated

Discussion as to whether an aerial map of the Fairfax School District is needed will be a feature of the regular meeting of the district board at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow.

Other new business will include the question of a fence at the Deer Park School, salary schedules, adoption of the publication budget and two contracts.

A representative of the Marin County Substitute Teachers' Assn. is expected to attend the meeting to support letters from the association to the board.

Why the Mercedes-Benz 230SL costs $6420

Top speed is 124 mph. Handling equals today's great sports cars. But the 230SL's genius lies in comfort no sports car has ever matched: chair-like seats that literally breathe, for example. Read more about one of the most desirable sports machines ever built.

THE Mercedes-Benz 230SL is defiantly not fun for the whole family. It's a two-seater machine built for the pleasures of driving.

As such, it succeeds brilliantly: "This combination of absolute security, complete stability, and plain old hell-raising fun must be driven to be believed," states Car and Driver magazine.

Mercedes-Benz takes serious pains to provide this pleasure.

From start to finish of assembly, the 230SL passes a total of 8,117 inspections. Its 6-cylinder, fuel injection engine is hand assembled with pistons matched to within 1/100th of a millimeter.

The completed engine runs at least 75 minutes on two test stands, finishing with a prolonged burst at peak speed.

The completed 230SL then zips from the factory to the test track for a brisk performance check. If it's good enough for the inspector, it's good enough to sell.

Handling for experts

Only a skilled professional driver could take the 230SL up to its road holding limits.

"The car's cornering power is so high that one simply goes roaring into the turn, chooses his line, steers, and opens the throttle to taste. The result is a smoothly negotiated corner that will make your passenger think you're a virtuoso, and drivers of other cars wish that they had taken the bus."—Car and Driver.

Some clues to the 230SL's handling mastery: it stands a mere 4 feet, 4 inches high—yet measures nearly 6 feet wide. And its track is so broad that those chubby 14-inch tires seem to bulge out from the body sides.

NOTE: These tires are a breakthrough in themselves. They were designed to suit the car—using advanced radial ply construction. Their tread design and tenacity help explain why this car literally sticks to the road.

Because of their decisive role in the 230SL's handling, Mercedes-Benz refuses to mount anything less.

You ride on a patented Mercedes-Benz fully independent suspension, with single-joint low-pivot rear swing axle. A few years ago, this same design carried the Mercedes-Benz 300SLR sports-racing car to a world championship.

Big 9.9-inch front disc brakes snub you down to a halt without fade or swerve. The 230SL holds Road & Track magazine's record for fast stopping times.

Einspritzmotor

The 230SL is only stretched to its limit when the speedometer needle nudges 124 mph. You could level off at 100 mph and stay there until it became boring or illegal.

An Einspritzer—fuel injection system—replaces carburetors and helps make this one of the most responsive engines for its size in the world. And one of the smoothest. Its unobtrusive power is also one reason why, unlike most sports cars, the 230SL makes such an ideal long-distance tourer.

What's in a name: The 230 in 230SL stands for 2.30 liters of engine displacement. The "S" stands for Super, the "L" for Light.

sides of the rocker panels that are sealed off before priming are protected nonetheless: they're zinc-coated before assembly.

Sumptuous living

Visibility in the 230SL is so airy it is eerie. You sit high, the car's waist is low, and side windows arch up over 15 inches. You watch the road ahead, not the hood. The psychological edge is worth an extra 5 mph.

You sit in a contoured, heavily padded problem: you can set your own comfort standards with a separate group of heater controls.

The 230SL is decidedly not a family carry-all. But you can tuck 7 cubic feet of luggage in the trunk. You can stow another 5 cubic feet, or a smallish relative, in the carpeted area behind the seats.

A 4-speed, fully synchronized transmission with floor shift is standard equipment. In its place you can specify a 4-speed automatic transmission, also with floor shift.

Even people who hate automatics relent with this one; it can be shifted like a manual gearbox, there is no soggy lag in acceleration, and it is so efficient that fuel economy virtually equals manually equipped 230SLs.

Power steering is also available at extra cost. It is generally regarded as the best such system in the world, since it reduces steering effort but not road feel—and does so progressively, coming into play only when needed.

Three 230SL models

You can choose from 3 models: the Roadster, with convertible top, at $6262*; the Coupe, an all-weather removable metal hardtop, at $6420*; and the Roadster/Coupe, at $6665*.

You can flip the convertible top up or down singlehanded, in seconds. It stows flush under a protective steel cover.

"The detachable hardtop is so beautifully engineered that it doesn't look as though it should come off at all," comments Autocar magazine. Note the concave roof of this hardtop. An ingeniously simple means of expanding visibility, as in turning up the brim of a sombrero.

In addition to the 230SL's tangible assets, many owners enjoy the simple fact that it is a Mercedes-Benz.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $25,785 to $4,065*
Grand Mercedes 600	$25,785
300SE Coupe	11,737
230SL Coupe	6,420
250S Sedan	5,861
230S Sedan	4,900
230 Sedan	4,250
200 Diesel Sedan	4,280
200 Sedan	4,065

*West Coast ports of entry, exclusive of options, state and local taxes if any.

Mission's 150th Year Deserves Recognition

The year 1967 will mark the 150th anniversary of the founding of Mission San Rafael Arcangel on Dec. 14, 1817.

The sesquicentennial of the Mission's establishment is of historic significance, not only for the City of San Rafael but for all Marin County.

The San Rafael Mission was the 20th link in a chain of 21 built by the Franciscans of the Roman Catholic Church between 1769 and 1823. It is a major attraction for tourists, especially those who make a summer vacation project of visiting each of the California missions from San Diego northward.

Here is a built-in opportunity for a countywide celebration to bring San Rafael and Marin further recognition state and nationwide.

If a well-organized celebration is to be worked out and tied in with other anniversaries that might be falling due in 1967, now is the time to start. Less than a half year remains before the new year rolls around.

Coincidentally, 1967 will be the 30th anniversary of the Golden Gate Bridge. The famous span linking Marin with San Francisco was completed on May 27, 1937.

The Richmond-San Rafael Bridge opening did not fall on as convenient a date. It opened to traffic on Sept. 1, 1956, which means that the 10th anniversary falls this year.

However, there may be other historic events that can be commemorated along with the anniversary of the San Rafael Mission.

It will take a pooling of effort by various communities and organizations to make the sesquicentennial the successful and memorable occasion that it deserves to be.

The over-all coordination might come from the newly formed Marin County Chamber of Commerce, although we realize that this group is only now struggling to get on its feet.

The year 1967 promises to be an historic one for our community. We hope it will not slip by without appropriate recognition.

Those Summer Moths

This has been a good year for those small, greyish moths. We have numbers of these little fingernail size fellows every summer, though we don't know it until the evening.

We think they are lawn moths, but some may be live oak moths. We spray our trees and feed our lawn poisoned fertilizer, but still the little pests keep coming.

No great menace, but a mild nuisance.

HOW TO FORESTALL AVALANCHES

One way to prevent avalanches is to treat snow crystals with special chemicals.

Experiments along this line were successfully conducted by one scientist in the Rocky Mountains. He "painted" 5,000 square-foot areas with various types of hydrocarbons, including ordinary anti-freeze.

The chemicals prevent the formations of crusts of frost beneath the snow, which lead to the buildup of snow "slabs." These slabs, some of them up to a half-mile wide, are among the chief causes of avalanche when they break off.

The scientist added that the "chemical approach looks promising enough to encourage a thorough investigation of its possibilities."

Pursuing experiments that protect and enrich people's lives is one of the ways open to man in living up to God's inspiring words about him:

"You have given him rule over the works of Your hands, putting all things under his feet." (Psalms 8:7)

Pray for those who work in the world's laboratories, that their discoveries may make life more human instead of harming it.

Inspire young people, Lord, to enter scientific fields in which they can dignify the human person.

Los Angeles Assessor Calls For Ceiling On Property Tax

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — Growing demands for some type of property tax limitation are causing exhaustive studies of such limitation, with a view of including them in an expected omnibus tax bill which is certain to be presented at the 1967 legislative session.

The suggestions of Philip E. Watson, Los Angeles county assessor, for a 2 per cent ceiling, have been circulated to members of the California Manufacturer Assn. The tax committee of that organization has continual studies under way as to how the tax climate can be improved in California.

WATSON POINTS out that in Los Angeles county, property tax collections have tripled in the last ten years, and are rising at a rate almost twice as fast as personal income.

"Many people," he says, "are coming around to the belief that if we are to preserve the ability of people to own property and to stay in their homes, we must enact some overall limit to the amount of tax burden that can be imposed on property owners."

"To that end, we have drafted a constitutional amendment and enabling legislation to fix a tax ceiling at 2 per cent of market value. We believe that we have a limit proposal that is workable, administratively sound, and that the various taxing agencies can live with."

"Basically, what we propose to do is to give the taxing agencies a five-year period in which to achieve the goal of living within the 2 per cent ceiling. If they can achieve it sooner, fine. But they will have time in which to reduce expenditures or seek other sources of revenue."

In argument for the 2 per cent maximum tax on the market value of the property taxed, Watson points out that when the income tax was proposed, it was suggested that a limit of 5 per cent of income be set. The tax then was .5 per cent and it was felt that the proposed limit of 5 per cent would be reached within a very short time.

"I think," he said, "we would all be grateful to settle for a 5 per cent maximum income tax today."

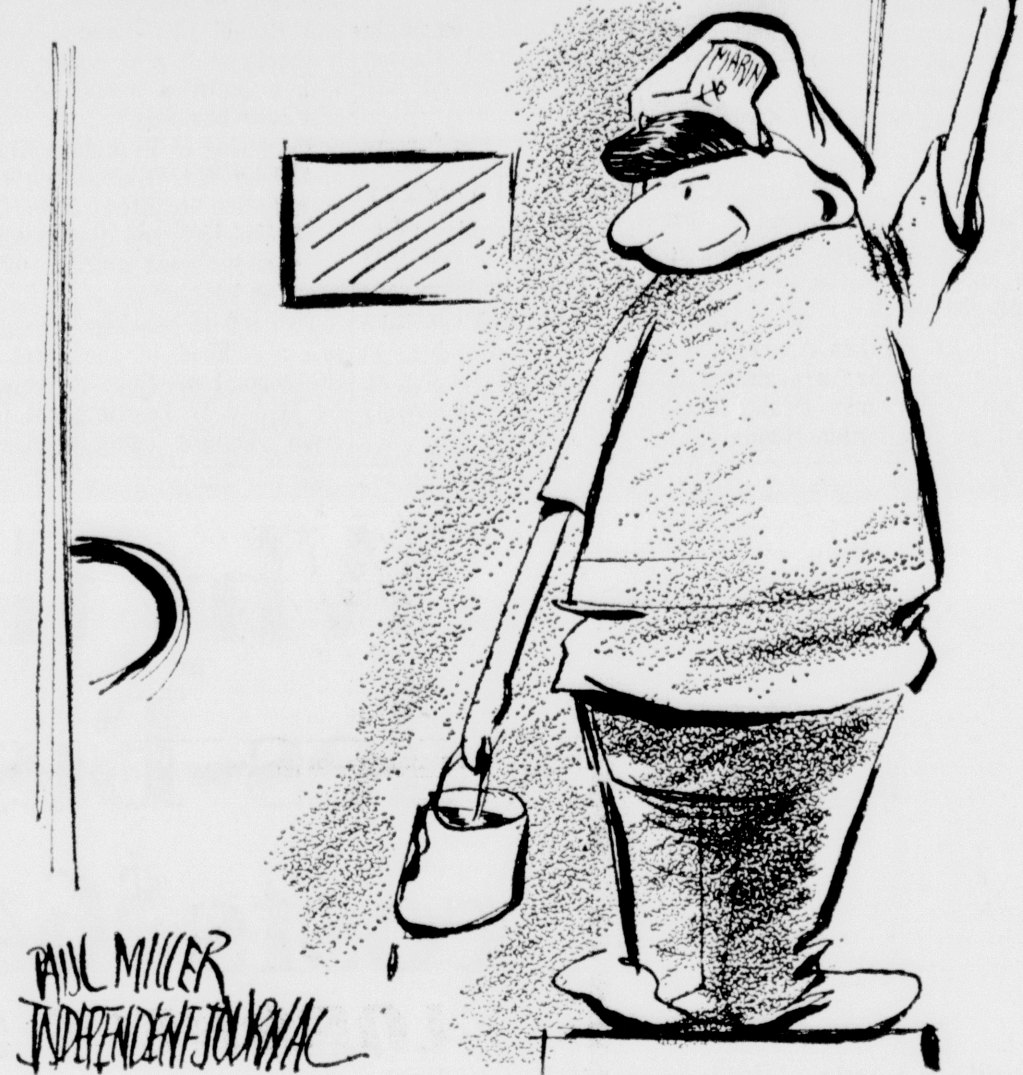

WATSON SAYS "the heart of the limit proposal is to gear the tax burden to the market value. That means that when the market value increases, the amount of taxes that could be levied could increase, though it would not necessarily do so if we kept a sharper eye on expenditures."

"It also means that if the market value decreases, the amount of taxes that could be levied would decrease. In other words, the potential tax burden would be geared directly to the economy."

To avoid the probability that assessors would raise market values if additional taxes were needed, Watson proposes that such value be calculated by using the assessment ratio found by the state board of equalization, which acts as a monitor on the quality of the job done by the local assessor.

Whether Watson's solution of a ceiling is the ultimate answer or not remains to be seen. But it can be forecast without doubt some drastic proposals will be made in 1967 to relieve the growing burden on the property owner.

Desegregation Idea Lashed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I was about to express my disagreement with your recent editorial (June 21) advocating the maintenance of segregated hospital facilities in the dear old Southland when Doctor Sam Hanzel's letter appeared. Doctor Hanzel did an admirable job of pointing up the false premises on which your editorial was based.

In addition to the points made by the Doctor, I take strong exception to your statement that desegregation of hospitals represents "the prevailing view of Washington officialdom."

The fact is that integration of public facilities involving federal funds, whether such facilities be schools, methods of transportation, housing, or what have you represents the prevailing law of the land and the view of the majority of the citizens of this Republic, as expressed through their representatives in the Congress. You must be aware that the "separate but equal" concept was laid to rest years ago.

Landmarks Society Remembers A Booster

Editor, Independent-Journal:

C. M. Goethe, the renowned conservationist, who died last week at the age of 91 in his native Sacramento, and who has been acknowledged nationally for his many years of leadership and generosity in the public interest, did not limit his support to grand gestures.

Marin County was among the recipients of Mr. Goethe's attention and contributions. He was among the first to recognize the value of Tiburon's botanical wonders and respond to the appeal to save the wildflower acreage near Old St. Hilary's Church. He continued to be a regular donor to assist in paying off the debt still due on this relatively small but important conservation project.

As a member of a pioneer family, Mr. Goethe was also interested in historical preservation and he assisted as well in the maintenance of Old St. Hilary's as a landmark of state-wide importance.

From those Marin residents who would do no less than Mr. Goethe and who would show appreciation of all that he did throughout California when there were so few to do so, the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society will gratefully receive help in fulfilling the local goals which Mr. Goethe endorsed, and in establishing a memorial.

The Society is pleased that it was able to participate in the testimonial to Mr. Goethe on his 90th birthday so that he knew he was beloved and appreciated.

Mark Twain's Words Cover De Gaulle Acts

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Megalomaniac Charles De Gaulle's actions in recent years, and particularly his ordering our country to remove our military establishments from France, reminds me of Mark Twain's remark: "The difference between a man and a dog is that, if you feed the dog and are kind to him, he won't bite you."

School Series Is Appreciated

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I should like to compliment the I-J and Mr. Bryce Anderson on the excellent series of articles on "The Peoples Schools". In my opinion they have been well and objectively written and deserve concentrated study by all of us in the community.

I particularly appreciated the rather complete comparison done of the 1961 and 1966 CTA studies presented in the July 7th article. In this article Mr. Anderson carefully pointed out the complete change in school administration and school board during the interval between studies. He could also have mentioned a complete change in student body as well, which implies, to a degree, a change in the people of the community who have a close personal interest in the schools.

We are left with no choice but to note that the only element involved in both studies which has not changed is an element of the teaching staff so it is difficult to believe that the present change in the administration will have an effect in solving the high school problem.

The evidence would indicate, rather, that our tenure law is doing us more harm than good and that we would all, schools and community, be better off by changing a few teachers. It is most unfortunate that such a few individuals must be allowed to cause so much trouble and I too ask Mr. Anderson's question "Does this have to go on every five years?" It would seem that the time is here for the community to answer that question.

Again my thanks for the articles and the paper's community interest in our schools.

What Will Happen To The Elm Trees?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to call attention to the magnificent elm trees lining Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, between Bolinas and Tustead Avenues. For an entrance or exit to ANY town, one could never hope to exceed the beauty in shade and greenery of these elms. And yet, in all the times I have read in the newspapers of the plans to widen Sir Francis Drake Blvd. between those aforementioned streets, I have not read one word about the fate of these priceless trees.

I would like very much to see a statement, from someone in authority, that throughout any and all street work these elms will be preserved and maintained for the future.

Expected Viet Cong Peace Bid May Be Full Of Traps, Pitfalls

With the fighting going badly for the Viet Cong, there is reason to brace ourselves for some very tricky and deceptive "peace proposals" from Hanoi.

Obviously, we ought to be totally responsive to any initiative to end the war in a way that protects the independence of South Viet Nam. But we ought to be totally on our guard against being drawn into a trap.

THOSE WHO KNOW the ways of the Communists believe the time is getting near when North Viet Nam may engineer a diplomatic maneuver designed to sell Washington and Saigon a "peace package" with a false bottom.

Here is the reasoning which shows why the U.S. will need to be alert against being taken:

1—The logical time to put such a move in motion would be on the eve of the Congressional elections.

2—The Communists would expect that the U.S. public would leap at anything that looked like peace in Viet Nam, even if the small type warned the buyer to beware.

3—They would figure that President Johnson, eager for the Democrats to do well in the Congressional voting, would not dare turn down "peace proposals" which might be made, for a time at least, to look like the real article. They would figure that the temptations of election politics would coerce the Administration into accepting something which at any other time it would reject.

4—The time for such a maneuver is running out. It has to be undertaken soon — in the next two or three months — or it will be too late.

WHAT WOULD BE the basic strategy of the Communists in a move of this kind? Their main purpose would be to tempt the U.S. into taking certain immediate steps that would disadvantage the U.S. and advantage Hanoi, not as part of a negotiated settlement, but as a preliminary to Hanoi's willingness to negotiate at all.

We must ask ourselves what the Communists would like to accomplish without making any final commitment to end the aggression. Obviously they want to try to immobilize the U.S. without any guarantee the Viet Cong would remain immobile.

The Communists could propose that the U.S. begin to withdraw its forces as a "gesture" that would help bring about negotiations a little later.

The Communists could propose that the U.S. de-escalate the fighting while they try to catch their breath and get ready for another push.

THE COMMUNISTS could propose that, as a preliminary to a future settlement, the VC should be allowed a place in the Saigon regime before the new government is elected.

It seems clear to me that the time and circumstances are at hand for such a tricky and deceptive maneuver—and we will need to be ready to keep from being taken in by it.

It is possible, of course, that there is so much controversy at the top in Hanoi on whether to keep up the war or accept negotiations that nobody there will dare make a move.

If it comes, it will probably be soon. President Johnson has warned against it with his public affirmation that "we will not withdraw under the cloak of a meaningless agreement."

New Management For Troubled OEO

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

The bungling and fumbling anti-poverty agency is under new management.

While R. Sargent Shriver still has the title of director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the actual running of the big, sprawling, trouble-racked agency is in the hands of a career expert in government administration — with White House authority and orders to clean it up, tighten it up and straighten it out.

He is Bertrand Harding, who as deputy director is now No. 2 OEO official. Formerly Deputy Internal Revenue Commissioner, he was shifted to OEO for the express purpose of putting its widely assailed house in order.

IN TACKLING THIS mammoth and thorny job, Harding has the benefit of a comprehensive analysis of the many things wrong with the anti-poverty program. He knows all about this detailed study because he was in charge of an unannounced inter-departmental task force that compiled it.

This group of career administrators was quietly set up by the White House when it became alarmed over the mounting chorus of outcries about OEO snafus, scandals and numerous other shortcomings.

With Democrats as well as Republicans castigating the program, President Johnson and his political lieutenants became concerned about the strong likelihood of widespread adverse repercussions in the fall state and congressional elections. In the hope of heading that off, a task force was created to go over OEO from top to bottom and submit corrective recommendations.

Under Harding, this backstage group spent six weeks minutely analyzing OEO and preparing a 200-page report with more than 100 findings.

Shriver is said to agree with many of them. He knew about the study and reportedly approved of it when informed by the President. But Shriver did not initiate it. It was entirely a White House idea.

SO WAS HARDING'S appointment as deputy OEO director — for the purpose of using his task force's report as a blueprint to reorganize the anti-poverty agency.

There are no surface indications that Shriver is balking at that. He and Harding appear to be getting along harmoniously, and no evident objections are being raised by the new officials Harding is bringing into OEO to help him with his difficult undertaking.

All this is taking place strictly sub rosa.

In fact, the existence and contents of the task force's critical report are so secret that members of the Senate Labor Committee were unaware of them when Harding appeared before it to answer questions regarding his OEO appointment.

Significantly, he never said a word about the study.

It's very unlikely the report ever will be made public. A congressional committee might demand it, but whether the White House would release it is highly conjectural.

In telling the Senate Labor Committee what he plans to do at OEO, Harding gave a few revealing clues to the contents of the report.

"I WILL HAVE primary responsibility for internal management of the agency," he said, "freeing Mr. Shriver for more activity in the public sector with Congress, outside groups, the press and other areas which are not so much within the management area. . . . There are management techniques that will and can be employed to get more consistency, more uniformity, greater responsiveness within the organization, and I shall do my best to install these.

Let's Put Board Of Supervisors On Five Couches—And Listen In

A psychiatric counselling service for supervisors, with five couches all in a row, is long past due.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer pointed this out when he asked Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen last week why they could not get along. It is pretty tough to answer this without couches.

I am prepared to operate the clinic at no increase in the tax rate (with assessments going up, who has to increase the tax rate?)

The service would work like this:

Counselor (it is I): All right, gentlemen, on the couches. Just lie back and relax. We want a free exchange of our thoughts today, don't we? What is it Mr. Leydecker?

LEYDECKER: Would it be all right for me to hold the gavel?

Counselor: Oh, I suppose so. But remember, it isn't a regular meeting.

Leydecker: It just makes me feel better.

Counselor: I understand. Now the problem before us today seems to be this animosity between Mr. Storer and Mr. Kettenhofen. Would you like to speak first, Mr. Storer?

KETTENHOFEN: I believe I asked for the floor first.

Counselor: Oh, all right, Mr. Kettenhofen.

Kettenhofen: If you won't be nice I won't tell you.

Counselor: I'm sorry. Go ahead.

Kettenhofen: You see, counselor, the trouble is that Mr. Storer has always reminded me of my mother.

Counselor: Oh, that explains everything then. You loved your mother dearly, and you resent anyone else taking her place?

Kettenhofen: That's it.

GNOSS: This is ridiculous! Storer: Gee, Kett, I'm sorry.

Kettenhofen: That's okay. You had no way of knowing.

Gross: Ridiculous!

Counselor: Please, Mr. Gness!

Behr: Just for the record I would like to say that Mr. Storer does not in any way remind me of my mother.

STORER: You don't have to get nasty, Mr. Behr.

Counselor: Gentlemen! Gentlemen!

Kettenhofen: I think Mr. Behr should apologize — to both of us.

Gross: Ridiculous!

Leydecker: This clears everything up, doesn't it, counselor?

Counselor: Well, not exactly.

Kettenhofen: He's right. Tom still reminds me of my mother. What are we going to do about that?

STORER: Maybe if I grew a beard—would that help?

Kettenhofen: Hey, that's a good idea.

Storer: Could you wait until after November?

Behr: Politics, politics, politics!

Gross: Ridiculous!

Counselor: Gentlemen, I'll have to ask you not to interrupt.

Storer: You know, counselor, this is sort of funny, because Mr. Kettenhofen has always reminded me of a Dutch uncle.

COUNSELOR: And you've resented this?

Storer: No, I have no resentments.

All: No resentments?

Leydecker: Isn't that sort of unhealthy, counselor?

Counselor: Well, yes, this is somewhat disturbing, but I think we had better not go into it until our next meeting. We have covered a good deal of ground today, and I want to thank you. Now, will someone untie Mr. Gness?

ART BUCHWALD

French Are Actually Humble Folk With Inferiority Complex

The chic thing to do these days if you are an American is to praise Madrid, love London, and hate Paris. I had been gone for four years and my friends kept returning with horror stories about France. It perplexed me as I couldn't believe the French had changed that much in such a short period of time.

I am happy to report they haven't. The French are still the same; it's just getting more difficult for Americans to understand them.

The first thing you have to understand is that the French people have an inferiority complex about their country. Lacking a strong political leader, the French secretly admire the fact that we have someone like Lyndon B. Johnson running our country. They dream of the day when they will have a tall dark stranger in the Elysee Palace who will tell the rest of the world to go to blazes. But since they don't have one, the French quite naturally envy the Americans who do.

THE SECOND THING you must know about the French is that they are a humble people. They know their cooking is not up to par in comparison to the American cuisine, and this frustrates them no end. Try as they may, the French have never been able to develop a wax-wrapped white bread or a decent sugar-coated cornflake, and they are afraid they will never catch up with Americans when it comes to perfecting a frozen TV dinner.

Knowing they are so far behind the Americans where cooking is concerned, the French try to bluster through, hoping Americans will not notice what they're eating.

This is also true of wines. The French have had little experience with wines and most of what they drink are home-grown products which they started producing to save importing American wine. It was a noble experiment, but a Frenchman is still very embarrassed to serve a French wine to an American, since he never knows if the American will laugh or not.

Rather than show his embarrassment, the Frenchman appears to be angry, when, in reality, he is praying the American will not know the difference.

AMERICANS CLAIM the Parisians are rude. But this is just a facade. Paris is an old city with old buildings, old parks, old tree-lined boulevards, and an old river running through the middle.

Most of the pictures hanging in its museums belong to another era. Parisians are on the defensive about this all the time. They are hard put to explain why there are so few skyscrapers on the river banks, so little urban renewal in the parks, and so many trees still left standing in the streets. If they appear rude to Americans, it's only because they don't want to explain to us why Paris has none of the Texas.

These are only a few of the reasons why Americans get the impression the French think unkindly of them. What it all boils down to is that the French are in awe of us, because they know that nothing they have compares to what we have in the United States. They pretend to look down on Americans, but in their hearts they have nothing but love and admiration for us, and someday, if they ever get a strong leader, they will drop all pretense of being angry with us and we will walk hand in hand into the sunset.

Marin Revenue

Share Announced

Marin County and its 11 incorporated towns and cities have been allocated $1,191,625 gasoline tax revenues and engineering subsidies in the year ended June 30, the State Department of Public Works has announced.

The county's share was part of a record total of more than $123.6 million in revenues administered by the State Division of Highways last fiscal year.

Allocations to cities were: Belvedere, $22,787; Corte Madera, $64,604; Fairfax, $56,511; Larkspur, $59,043; Mill Valley, $87,341; Novato, $202,189; Ross, $23,782; San Anselmo, $97,986; San Rafael, $233,206; Sausalito, $54,030; Tiburon, $49,730.

Bond Failure To Be Discussed

Just how much the failure of the Marin County $4.3 million parks bond issue last month will affect San Anselmo Park and Recreation Commission plans for Sorich Ranch as a city park will be discussed by the commission at its 7:30 p.m. meeting today in city hall.

Encouraged by the prospect of having funds available through a bond issue, members, earlier this year, were granted $45,000 by the city council to draw up a preliminary master plan for the 62-acre site.

SB105-Way, re-enacts provisions for organization and composition of county committees on school district organization.

WE SEW SEATS

Car seats. With split seams.

For example . . . the little VW is a mighty fine car. It's put together by strong mechanics. They have contests to see who can tighten the bolts best. They never come apart.

Except at the seams. We sew them up. With dacron thread. And they never come apart!

(Sam, incidentally, pioneered the use of dacron thread in the automotive field in Marin. Just one of our many firsts.)

We sew seams for Fords, Chevs. and Plymouths, TRs, MGAs, and Alfas. And many more, too.

We also install seat covers, auto glass and convertible tops, carpets, headrests and armrests. And many more.

Stop in today and show us your seam problem. Or seat cover problem. Or glass breakage.

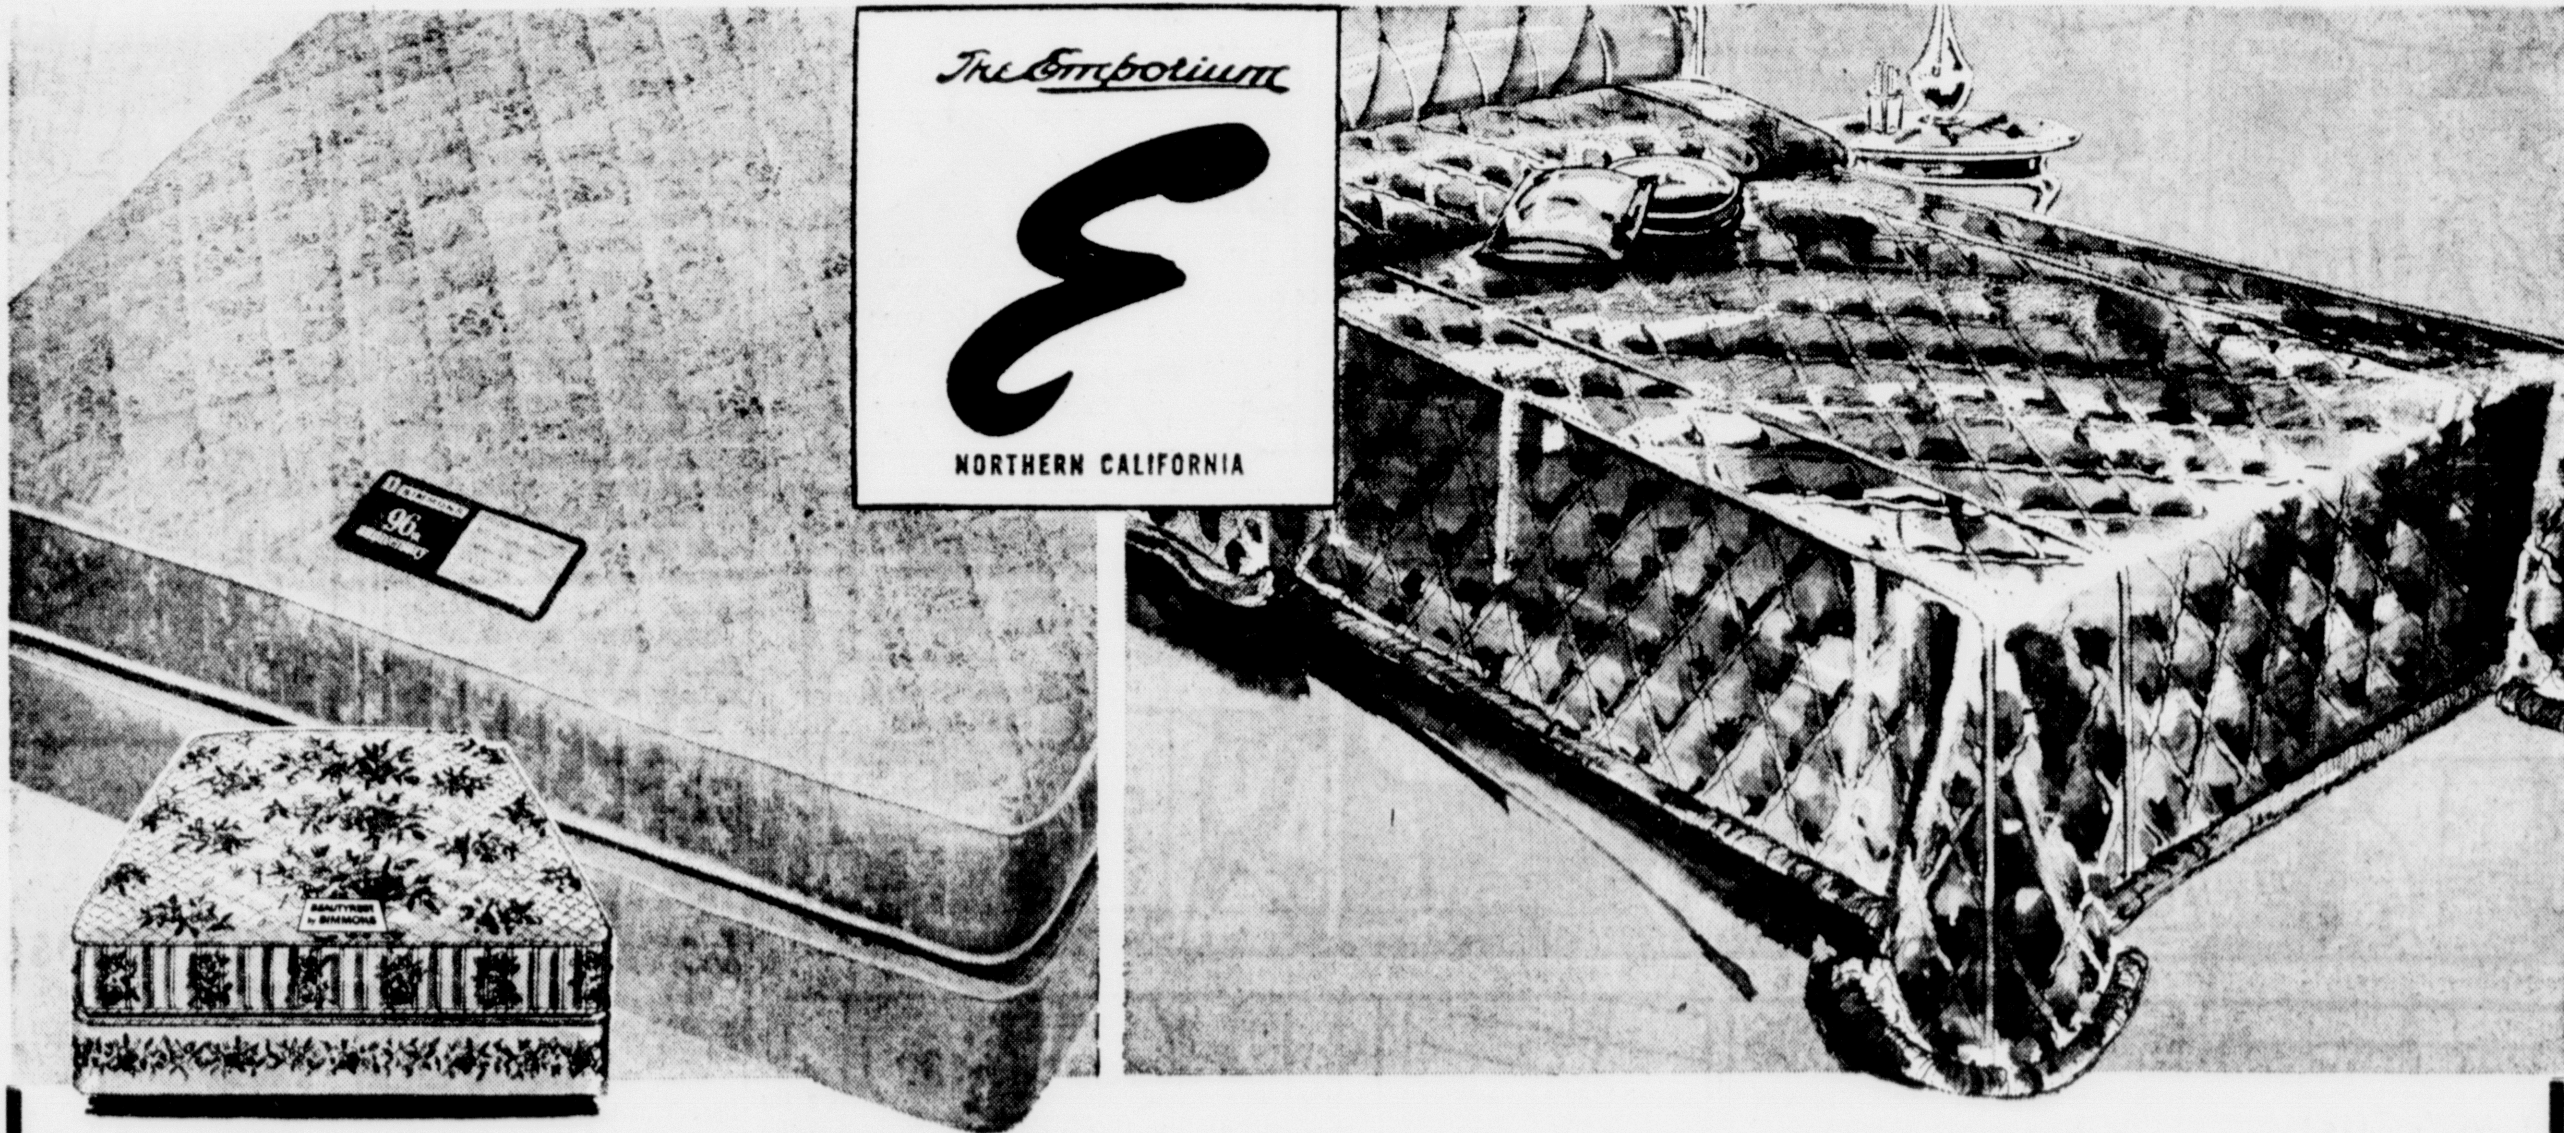

We'll be happy to see you!

Today is Monday, July 18, the 199th day of 1966 with 166 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter; the morning stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn; there are no evening stars.

Astronaut John Glenn, first American to orbit the earth, was born this day in 1921.

On this day in history:

In 1932, a treaty was signed between the United States and Canada for the development of the St. Lawrence River into an ocean lane and power project. Opposition to the project delayed actual construction until 1954.

In 1938, Douglas Corrigan arrived in Dublin, Ireland, although he was ostensibly on his way to California. Amused Americans immediately nicknamed him "Wrong Way Corrigan."

In 1940, President Roosevelt was nominated for a third term.

In 1964, race riots broke out in predominantly Negro sections of New York City... beginning four consecutive nights of violence.

A thought for the day—American humorist Mark Twain once defined a classic as "a book which people praise and don't read."

Contract Bridge Good Practice For Resisting Sly Temptations

Contract bridge is a preparation for the good, moral life. In no other indoor sport do you get so much practice in resisting temptation.

If you can play first-class bridge you should be able to quit smoking, stick to a diet or become a mystic.

East took the first trick with the ace of hearts and returned the four.

West won the second trick with the jack of hearts and played the role of the serpent by leading the king of hearts.

BITES THE APPLE

South bit the apple by ruffing the king of hearts in dummy.

Then he led out the ace and king of trumps, finding that the suit did not break favorably.

He had to lead a third high trump to draw East's last trump.

Since there was no entry to dummy's diamonds South had to hope for good luck in clubs.

He led out the ace of clubs and led another club to dummy's queen, but East got the king of clubs, and West took the ten to defeat the contract.

BUILDS CHARACTER

Even looking at this hand in a newspaper is enough to improve your character.

On paper, we would all have strength enough to resist the serpent.

When West leads the king of hearts at the third trick, South must discard a club from dummy, giving West the trick.

If West then shifts to the jack of clubs (his best defense), South wins with the ace of clubs (his best defense), South wins with the ace of clubs and draws trump with three high leads.

This leaves one trump still in the dummy.

South cashes the top diamonds, leads his deuce of trumps to dummy and discards two clubs on the queen and jack of diamonds.

Virtue is rewarded by game and rubber.

Supervisors To Go To Jail -For Look At Problems

The agenda for Marin supervisors tomorrow includes a trip to county jail. The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The trip to inspect conditions at the jail is scheduled for 11:50 a.m.

the floor due to crowding and that there should be some kind of watch established to prevent prisoners from harming each other.

The judge is to appear before the board at 9:15 a.m. tomorrow.

At 10:30 a.m., supervisors are to meet with the county fair advisory committee to review results and criticism of the Marin Art and Garden Fair.

Later in the morning, County

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost will ask the board for policy guidance on the private application for a refuse dump on the Heerd property near Corte Madera.

The dump would require tidal land filling and the application has gone to the Bay Area Conservation and Development Commission.

A good deal of the afternoon session will be devoted to Richardson Bay, including discussion of a proposed federal redevelopment project to upgrade the shoreline.

Health Unit To Meet

The Mental Health Advisory Board will meet at 3 p.m. tomorrow in the Blue Room of Marin General Hospital, Dr. Clyde G. Miller of Community Mental Health Services has announced.

Inverness Fair Plans Readied For Aug. 13-14

The second annual Inverness Fair will be held Aug. 13-14 at the fairgrounds near St. Columba's Church, overlooking Tomales Bay.

The fair — attended by more than 3,000 persons last year—will feature an art show, art in action, games concessions, an antique shop and the sale of plants by the Inverness Garden Club.

On Aug. 13, there will be two performances in the amphitheater by the West Marin Youth Fellowship under the direction of Scott Kaspick.

On Aug. 14, the Inverness Festival Chorus will perform Haydn's "Creation"—a two-and-a-half-hour performance by 40 voices, directed by Fae McNally.

INSPECTING A BEETLE (no kin to the entertainers) before capturing him briefly in a tuna tin bug cage is 9-year-old Camp Fire Girl Gail Urquhart. (Independent-Journal photos by Harry Mathias)

THE FUN OF PREPARING Corn on the Cob, Indian Style and biscuits for Pizza Reflector Style, is mirrored in the faces of, from left, Jennifer Holm, Lisa Liljeberg, Ann Liljeberg, junior counselor, and Peggy Ralston.

LEARNING NEW SONGS—camp songs, folk songs and having fun songs is part of camp life. Mrs. Russell Cone of San Anselmo, music counselor, provides the accompaniment.

AT DAY'S END—Camp Fire Girls gathered together at Deer Park in Fairfax last week for closing ceremonies to show what they made or found during the day. Junior High Camp Fire Girls aided the younger ones as they told of their findings, sang songs and prepared to lower the flag for the evening. The nine teen-aged helpers were working their seventh year in the program.

Camp Fire Program Mixes Fun, Learning

It was a big day for the Camp Fire Girls of Marin County last week when some 65 participated in a gathering at Deer Park in Fairfax to learn about the outdoors and have fun together. Camp Fire director, Mrs. Dennis L. McMolloy was assisted in the day's activities by nine teen-aged Junior High Camp Fire Girls, all working for their seventh year in the program.

Collecting, examining and then releasing insects was an activity enjoyed by the budding entomologists who were also learning to build their own bug cages of two empty tuna fish cans and a scrap of screening.

The youngsters collected specimens on hikes in nearby hills and used them in making plaster mosaics and blue prints. They also learned to collect bags of litter from the trail and campsite.

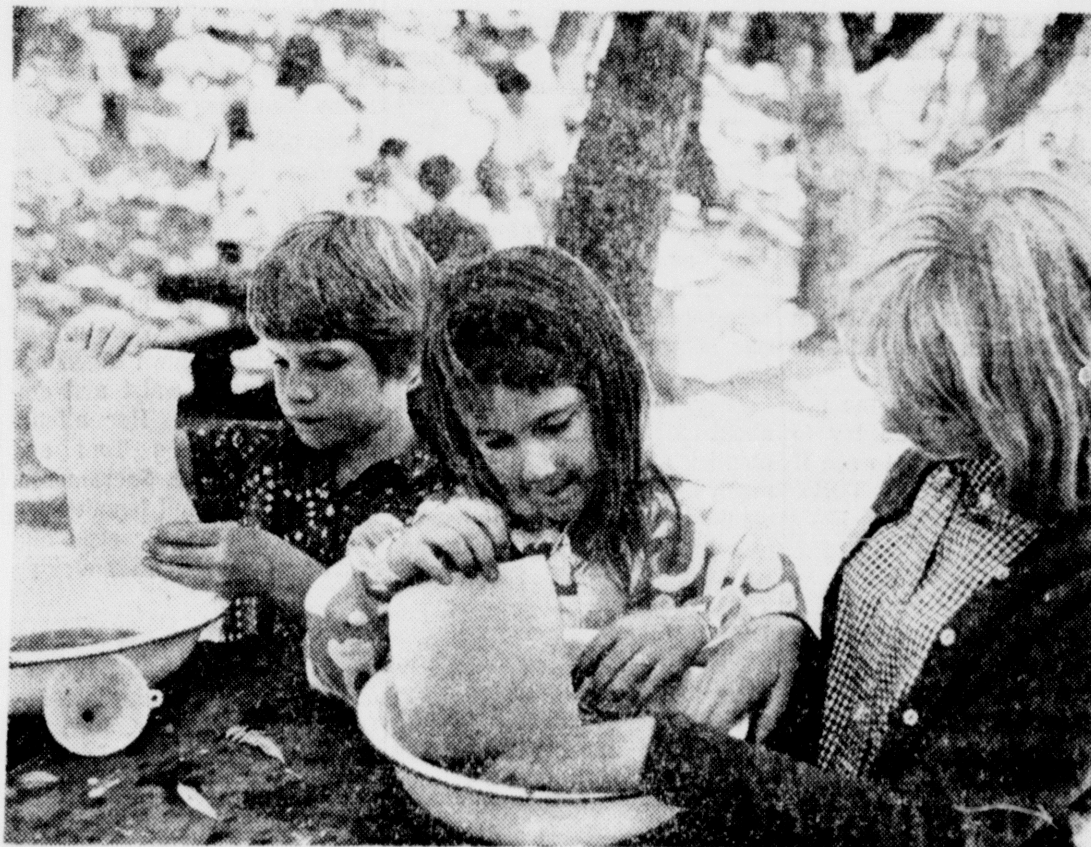

Camp Fire Girls and Bluebirds ranging in ages from seven to eleven, are learning to cook over the campfire with each group planning its own menu, preparing the food and cooking it. One group made Corn on the Cob, Indian Style by stripping off the husks and silk and wrapping in foil and cooking on the coals. They also prepared Pizza, Reflector Style, which uses canned biscuits covered with spaghetti and tomato sauce, topped with cheese and baked in a reflector oven. Sliced wieners or Vienna Sausage is also added to the sauce.

Assisting in the program are Mesdames John Holm, site director; Russell Cone, music counselor; Helene Coale, camp nurse; Howard Stahl, cooking coordinator; John Polach, nature counselor; and also Allan Telford who is Marin Mosquito Abatement entomologist.

At the end of the day, the girls gathered together for the closing ceremonies, to sing songs, show what they had made or found during the day and to lower the flag for the evening.

Zion. The youngsters exposed the blue print paper with leaf to sunlight for several minutes, then wash and rinse in water.

PLASTER MOSAICS made with cones, shells and pebbles imbedded in plaster are hung on a tree to dry by Sherrie Martin (in tree), Nancy Pohl, lower left, and Andrea Christenson. Cottage cheese container lids are used as molds.

Whole Family Gathers For Interview Each Time Claire Meets A New Boy

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teen-age questions to Youth Asked For It, care of Helen Help Us! The Independent-Journal.

DEAR HELEN:

Every time I get a new boy friend I have to bring him home before I can date him. That isn't bad, you say?

Know what's waiting at home when I bring him? The whole darn receiving line — Mom and Dad, my grown brothers, my two older sisters, a couple of aunts and uncles, and my grandmother!

If they aren't all there at once — they usually are, because I have to announce when he's coming — they still manage to "interview" him the next time around.

You can see how boys would get pushed out of shape by this. A fella would have to like me awfully well to run all that interference. My brothers are the worst. THEY ASK QUESTIONS!

Maybe you could say something in your column about families not scaring boys off. — CLARE

DEAR CLARE:

Be glad to. Family of Claire: Let her mother and father be official boy friend greeters. A mere date isn't the occasion for the Gathering of the Clan. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My boy friend has gone to Viet Nam. We had plans to get married, but decided to wait until he returns.

He does not write to me nor to his folks. Should we try to get in touch with him to see if he's hurt? Or what? — TORY

DEAR TORY:

If he were hurt, his folks would be the first to hear. Keep writing and try not to fret. Your boy friend is busy. A jungle isn't like a quiet room with a desk . . . and by men, even that ideal set-up doesn't inspire many letters. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

It's probably right that changing the liquor law to age 18 wouldn't make much difference in teen-age drinking — those that want to drink will, whether it's legal or not, and those that don't won't anyway.

But lawmakers should think about this: The fine in our state for changing your ID card (drivers license, etc.) is stiff — not a kiddie's slap on the wrist. If a minor forges his age to get whisky he's liable for adult punishment. Does that make sense?

We can fight for our country, but we can't toast it in anything stronger than pop.

A judge we can't vote for can hand us 20-year-olds an adult sentence and send us to adult prisons.

Males in our state can't marry without our parents' permission until we are 21, but the government can pick us up and dump us 15,000 miles away from home, where for darn sure there's no mother to guide us. Wonder what would happen if we wrote to the draft board: "My Mamma won't let me, I'm a minor."

What's fair about it? — WEST-ERNER

DEAR WESTERNER:

Almost everyone agrees there is nothing fair about all this, but nobody does anything about it. What you 18, 19 and 20-year-olds need is a fast talking, hard working lobby group. Do I hear volunteers? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I go to summer school, and my brother goes to summer college, as he is a teacher. We live in a city that is famous for being hot. But almost none of our schools have air conditioning.

They make such a big fuss about teaching kids, but for two months, at least, we don't learn much because we're cooked. So we try to make it up in the summer and then we fry. What can we do? — HEAT FRUSTRATION

DEAR H.F.:

How about writing letters to your newspaper editor, the school board and the PTA? Year-round schools should be equipped for it. — H.

St. Sebastian's Is Setting For Zoller-Clisham Nuptials

Jean Marie Clisham of Greenbrae became the bride of Peter Zoller in a recent ceremony at St. Sebastian's Church in Greenbrae with Msgr. William J. Clasby officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Clisham of Greenbrae.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white Italian silk and Madeira lace.

Kathleen Clisham of Greenbrae was maid of honor for her sister and bridesmaids were Carole Casassa of San Francisco, Mrs. Thomas Kemp of Daly City and Maria Zoller of Montclair, the bridegroom's sister. They wore full length empire gowns of aqua crepe.

Dennis Fitch of San Francisco served the bridegroom as best man and ushering were David Clisham of Greenbrae, the bride's brother, William Pummer of Downey and Pat Ripple of San Rafael.

A reception followed the ceremony at Peacock Gap Country Club.

The bride was graduated from San Francisco College for Women. Tom Clisham of Larkspur and James Clisham of San Jose are also her brothers.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zoller of Montclair. He was graduated from the University of San Francisco and Claremont Graduate School.

MR. AND MRS. PETER ZOLLER
(Ashworth of London)

Lake Tahoe was the destination of the wedding trip.

In September, the couple will make their home in Claremont, where the bridegroom will study for his doctorate in English Literature at Claremont Graduate School.

Miss Jensen Is Bride In Novato Rite

Joanne Rae Jensen became the bride of Scott Wayne LaFramenta in a 2 p.m. ceremony on Saturday in Novato's Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jensen of Novato.

Officiating for the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Stanley Gjervik.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white satin fashioned with lace inserts. The skirt fell into a chapel train.

Carole Jensen of Novato was maid of honor for her sister and bridesmaids were Lois LeReed of San Rafael and Terry Woods of Port Orchard, Wash.

They wore empire gowns of moss green lace with cream colored crepe skirts.

Bob LaFramenta of Wilmette, Ill., was best man for his brother and ushers were the bride's two brothers, Glenn and Steven Jensen of Novato.

The bride was graduated from Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, Wash., and the University of Chicago. Mrs. H. C. Jensen of San Francisco is her grandmother.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. LaFramenta

Stevens-Jones Vows Traded At Ceremony In San Rafael

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones of Sacramento and Moreland Leifhold Stevens of San Rafael were married in a late afternoon ceremony Saturday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael. The Rev. Kenneth Anderson officiated.

The bride, the niece of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Jones of Sacramento, was given in marriage by her uncle. She wore a floor length batiste gown fashioned with an empire waist and embroidered bodice. Her attendants, two cousins Toni and Hilary Novak of Sacramento, wore aqua blue full length linen gowns with empire waists and lantern sleeves of matching lace.

The bridegroom was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and San Jose State College and will receive his masters degree from the University of Maryland in February.

Following a reception at Maple Lawn in San Rafael, the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to Mexico. They will live in Silver Springs, Maryland, while the bridegroom continues his education.

best man, and ushers were his other two brothers, Charles Steven of Marysville and William Stevens of Concord. John Stevens Jr. was ring-bearer.

The new Mrs. Stevens graduated from Dominican High School, now San Dominico, and San Jose State College. She has one brother, Carl William Jones of Sacramento.

The bridegroom was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and San Jose State College and will receive his masters degree from the University of Maryland in February.

HAYDN'S 'CREATION' — Baritone Donald Stone and soprano Thelma Dickson rehearse the solos of Adam and Eve from the third part of Haydn's oratorio to be presented July 31 as a part of the Inverness Music Festival. Fae McNally, festival music director, accompanies them at the piano.

Inverness Music Festival Set In New Amphitheater

The Inverness Music Festival — ambitious outgrowth of two outdoor concerts last summer on the community's firehouse lawn — will be staged in its new 500-seat amphitheater July 30-31.

The Inverness Festival Chorus, composed of West Marin residents, will be joined for the occasion by performers from the Oakland and San Francisco symphony orchestras, the Marin String Quartet, and the Carmel Bach Festival.

OVERLOOKS BAY
Afternoon performances will be held in the oak-surrounded amphitheater overlooking Tomales Bay, evening performances in nearby St. Columba's Church.

The program at 3 p.m. July 30 features a song recital by contralto Reba Mason, accompanied at the piano by festival director Fae McNally. Miss Mason will sing numbers by Handel, Schumann, and Johann Sebastian Bach.

McNally will also play "Four Pieces for Piano" by Mill Valley composer George Burt, and Darrell Parker will direct a male chorus in Brahms' Alto Rhapsody, Opus 53.

SONG RECITAL
The evening performance at 8 o'clock will include a song recital by baritone Donald Stone and a performance of Bach's "Concerto for Two Harpsichords" by Nancy L. Bennett and McNally.

At 2 p.m. July 31, the Inverness Festival Chorus and soloists will present Joseph Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation," directed by Robert Stommel. Soloists will be sopranos Thelma Dickson, Margery Stommel and Henryetta Russell; tenors Darrell Parker, Robert Lea and Kent Weaver; baritone Walter Weaver and Donald Stone.

At 8:30 p.m. July 31, there

'Merchant' Next On Festival Bill

"The Merchant of Venice" will open at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Art and Garden Center in Ross as the second production in the current Marin Shakespeare Festival.

Included in the cast are Valda Claire, Rita Knox, Tranquil Hudson, Dick Mathews, Gordon Townsend and Chris Monker. Ann Brebner, festival co-founder will direct.

Other festival productions to be staged Wednesday through Saturday evenings at the center will be "Richard III" and Julius Caesar.

County, Owner Argue Over 'Dirty Fill' In Richardson Bay Area

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Bay fill. Should it be clean or dirty?

Clean fill means dirt which may or may not have rock and broken concrete in it.

Trash, or dirty, fill includes such ingredients as trees, brush, cuttings.

There has been some "go-around" lately between Donald R. Frost, county public works director and Thomas E. Nowell, Mill Valley real estate broker, over whether or not Nowell should use dirty fill to fill an area bordering Highway 101 which is 300 feet south of the heliport.

The question is expected to be resolved tomorrow before the board of supervisors.

Frost claims that unless clean fill is used it is impossible for the county or the person filling to maintain control.

"Too," he added, "are we using the place to get rid of fill or are we filling it to develop it? If fill is for development, clean fill should be used."

Nowell comments that, for his purposes, it is best to fill first with branches and debris. This layer forms a mat in the mud, acting as a stabilizer. Then clean fill is placed on top.

He said that some people have come in and dumped dirty fill when he wasn't looking.

Frost recommended to supervisors at one point that Nowell's permit be cancelled because he is not using clean fill. The board answered, "Work it out" and spell out new conditions.

Nowell got his fill permit July 9, 1965, prior to formation of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission which has veto power over filling and dredging projects. The permit runs to July, 1967.

Nowell says that he will probably submit plans in about 90 days for some sort of development on the area being filled. The area, now about an acre in size, is to be extended to cover three and one-half acres.

The site may be used for a motel with parking on the fill and the motel built on piers over the water. "It is an ideal site since it has the highest traffic count north of Golden Gate Bridge," said Nowell. "It totals about 80,000 cars in a 24-hour period."

He added, "It is described as the most dramatic location for motels and restaurants because it has full exposure coming down Waldo Grade."

The broker owns about 30 acres of waterfront property with Kenneth Norberg of Tiburon, all in the vicinity of the heliport.

When asked his views about the county's proposal for federal redevelopment of the shoreline from Richardson Bay bridge to Sausalito city limits, Nowell explained, "If the county would sit down with property owners and say what could be done that is economically feasible, then we could go in and work it out phase by phase."

"The fact that George Kappas has an unsightly development seems to influence the whole development of Richardson Bay. Let us leave a certain amount of bay in open water, maybe a peninsula or island. If they go into redevelopment, redevelopment would do precisely that same thing."

A request from Alexis Tellis of Commodore Properties to fill to develop a Hyatt House motel, restaurant and cocktail lounge is to be considered by supervisors tomorrow, Frost said.

An application by Kappas, who owns Kappas Yacht Harbor bordering Nowell's property, was denied last week by supervisors. The board said it would extend too far into the bay and involve county underwater streets.

Kappas said today that the last time he filled any land on his property was 10 years ago. He wishes to fill to provide for parking and businesses.

He was questioned as to federal redevelopment. "That's a shot in the dark," he replied. "When they do that the property doesn't pay taxes. We like to develop our area when the county doesn't interfere."

Housing Authority Sets Local Priorities

Preference in low-rent housing for the elderly will be given to residents of the community in which a given unit is built, the Marin County Housing Authority decided at a special meeting Friday night.

The policy was adopted as supplement to earlier decisions in revision of the occupancy policy, and relating to age and Marin County residence of one year.

Tiburon Man Booked

William Anthony Power, 25, of Marinero Circle, Tiburon, was booked Friday night at county jail by the sheriff's office on a traffic warrant issued by San Francisco police. Released on $452 bail, he is to appear in San Francisco Court July 29 at 9:30 a.m.

"Astonishingly frank! Unabashed look at real-life sex. Remarkably uninhibited and specific in its recording of the way lovers talk and touch and think!"

—Richard Schickel, Life Magazine

"A tender and lusty study of love. 'DEAR JOHN' is a tour de force of erotic realism. Lovemaking banter... as explicit as the law allows!"

—Time Magazine

"A frank and uninhibited exposition of the onrush of physical desire. One after another scene expands upon the brash techniques of courtship and the clamorous fulfillment of desire. Lindgren has fashioned and illuminated it so that it captures a whole range of feelings and moods complicated by sex. And Jarl Kulle and Christina Schollin played the principal roles with an intensity and sensitivity that speak much more than lustful appetite. The progress of their attachment from flirtation and coquetry to a passionate, nerve-shaking devotion is absorbingly described."

SMOOTH—Power roller compacts and smoothed new pavement yesterday. A rare sight—

Fourth Street empty. (Independent-Journal photos)

MELTS STREET — Heater-planer burned off excess asphalt Saturday evening to allow smooth repaving. A following blade picked up about an inch of old pavement as it melted.

Resurfacing Finished; Now Parallel Parking

Resurfacing and striping of eight blocks of Fourth Street in San Rafael Saturday night and yesterday "went extremely well," Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles reported today.

Praising the public, merchants and police for cooperating while the city's main business thoroughfare was closed, Rawles said not a single vehicle had to be towed away. Everyone heeded notices posted on meter posts that parking would be banned between 6 p.m. Saturday and 6 a.m. today.

Work began 20 minutes after the parking ban started. It was completed almost exactly 24 hours later. Two crews worked simultaneously toward on another from Lincoln Avenue and E Street.

The $22,556 project was done by Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael.

Striping for parking was completed, and striping for centerlines and crosswalks will be done this week, Rawles said. A new type of plastic will be used, he said which will be glued to the pavement.

Cost of the plastic striping, supplied by Metals Plastic Co. of Los Angeles, is about $1,300. It should last about 10 years, Rawles estimated.

Commenting enthusiastically about the "new" street, Jack Alvarado, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, said women drivers "report no trouble parking, like it very much, and like the wider appearance of the street."

The new parallel parking, he said, "has a wonderful open effect of the store fronts on drivers. Also, parkers no longer tie up traffic."

Alvarado praised the city for its "wonderful coordination" in completing the project in one day.

The city council decided to do the work over on weekend to limit disturbance to business and traffic.

Relocation of meters was done by city crews. Eighty-nine of the former 269 parking spaces were lost, "but we've lots of room in our parking lots," Rawles said.

It was the first complete resurfacing of Fourth Street in more than 15 years.

Inmate Held For Assault

A 26-year-old Marin County Jail inmate allegedly assaulted two prisoners who were playing cards, then struck the jailer who attempted to move him to another cell Friday night.

Willie Elmer Brown, of Richmond, who had been brought from the California Medical Facility at Vacaville to face trial in Marin for burglary, was booked for assault and battery on his two fellow-inmates, Ronald Lester Webb, 43, and Aenea Clifford Rotsel, 57.

He also was charged with felony assault on the officer, Deputy Victor L. Carrara. None of the victims was seriously injured.

Jailers said Brown became enraged when cell talk during the card game interrupted his watching television. He struck Webb over the right eye, then kicked Rotsel on a shoulder, officers said.

When Deputy Carrara attempted to transfer him to an isolation cell, Brown grabbed him, tearing the jailer's shirt and causing a small neck bruise, according to the report.

Brown's facing trial for the Dec. 6 burglary of Marin County Real Estate Board offices at 255 West End Avenue, San Rafael. He is serving prison time for second degree burglary in Contra Costa County.

Annexation Of Flatland Appears Out

Proposed annexation of flatland areas of Homestead Valley to the city of Mill Valley appeared dead today.

But Homesteaders agreed to continue their fight against building of a 30-unit low cost housing for the elderly in Homestead on the basis of density, sewers and drainage.

"The people are not for the annexation as they were a month ago," said Mrs. Mary Greyerbiel of 20 Montford Avenue, annexation exponent.

She added that, since there seemed to be a change of mind since the Mill Valley City Council and planning commission endorsed the housing project last week, she did not conduct a door-to-door survey this weekend as planned. The survey was to determine interest in an annexation election.

City Manager Job Draws 35

Approximately 35 persons have applied for the job of Sausalito City Manager, including two from Marin County, three from Arizona and one each from Florida, New York and Alaska.

Sausalito City Councilmen will study qualifications of the applicants and hope to begin interviewing top applicants in the early part of August, vice mayor Earl F. Dunphy said today.

The post is being filled by fire chief Charles E. Masten temporarily since City Mgr. Charles A. Brown left July 1 to work in Caracas, Venezuela, for the Agency for International Development.

Entry, But No Loss

Someone forced the door of his garage while he and his family were away on vacation but did not take anything, Frank Lawrence Martin of 11 Duseil Court, Novato, reported Saturday to police.

Bagshaw Named To County Job

John M. Bagshaw, former member of the San Rafael Board of Education, has joined the county's data processing department as assistant operations supervisor.

Bagshaw has had many years of experience in the data processing department of Hills Coffee Co. He has been in the real estate business since retiring from Hills Brothers.

He will work on extra hire at $3.25 an hour until the new job become effective Aug. 1. Pay then will be $619 a month, data processing director Arleigh R. Sewell said.

Tucker was wanted for failing to appear in court June 15 on malicious mischief and resisting arrest charges while on probation from an earlier conviction for possession of a hypodermic needle.

Miss Marage was booked Thursday at county jail for harboring a known fugitive.

Parolee Found Fully Clothed After Escape

A 21-year-old parole violator was arrested Saturday night in San Rafael—fully clothed, unlike his casual attire when he fled from police Thursday.

Bruce Allan Tucker, no known address, had escaped out a side door, minus his shirt and shoes, when police went to the home of Emily Marage, 18, at 28 Stevens Place, San Rafael. He made his side door getaway while Miss Marage engaged one officer in conversation at the front door and a second watched the back door.

Police hunted Tucker unsuccessfully on San Rafael Hill behind Graceland Avenue.

With him Saturday when he was picked up at Fourth Street and Grand Avenue was Frank Robert Marage, 19, of 27 Stevens Place. Marage was booked for being absent with out leave from the armed forces. Patrolman Gary L. Hassfield saw the pair, on foot, at 9:45 p.m., and arrested them both.

Tucker was wanted for failing to appear in court June 15 on malicious mischief and resisting arrest charges while on probation from an earlier conviction for possession of a hypodermic needle.

Miss Marage was booked Thursday at county jail for harboring a known fugitive.

Movie, Trip Planned

Star Observers of Marin, an astronomy study group, will view movies and take a field trip to an observatory starting at 8 p.m. Saturday at 170 Hillside Avenue, San Rafael.

Sonoma-Marin Fair Record Attendance

Attendance at Sonoma-Marin Fair in Petaluma was an all-time high for the four-day event. Yesterday 15,896 fairgoers crammed into the Petaluma Fairgrounds to bring the attendance up to 52,245, much higher than past years 47,761.

The fair, which began Thursday, attracted many Marin entries in classes which ranged from oil paintings to turnips.

The President's Trophy, awarded to the outstanding Future Farmers of America exhibitor, was won by Mike Maloney of Tomales. The 4-H Club beef cattle showmanship award was presented to Michael Tomasini of Nicasio.

Leonard Rodrigues of the Novato Jets won an award for the 4-H best agricultural mechanics project, electric division, and Ronald Souza of Tomales won the award for the 4-H best forestry project.

The award for the junior 4-H best light horse project, sponsored by Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin, San Rafael, was won by Albert Strauss of Tomales.

Michael Tomasini of Nicasio won another special award—the 4-H beef cattle award.

The FFA swine award was won by Domingo Rodgers of Tomales.

Irkene Duncan of Tomales won a 4-H dairy cattle award, and the 4-H best beef project was won by Michael Tomasini of Nicasio. James Schuck of Tomales won the FFA best Aberdeen-Angus project prize.

A dairy judging contest, FFA individual, rated Mike Maloney of Tomales fifth. In the poultry judging contest Tomales teams placed first in 4-H and second in FFA, with placements in the 4-H individual category: Norah Angress, Tomales, first; Madelyn Angress, Tomales, third; Glenn Parks, Tomales, fourth.

Additional Marin winners not previously announced include:

4-H DAIRY: Jersey, 3 year and over, Steve Dolcini, Nicasio; first junior yearling, Jean Dolcini, Nicasio; first, junior calf, Bev Grossi, Novato Olompali, second; junior calf, Bev Grossi, first.

4-H RABBITS: Senior buck, Mary Davidson, Novato Valley, first; junior buck, Ricky Nelson, Novato Olompali, first.

4-H FORESTRY: Display of bark, Ron Souza, Tomales, first; Duane Fields, Tomales, second; trees, shrubs, James Henderson, Novato Miwoks, second; Ron Souza, Tomales, third; plant press, Souza, first.

4-H WOODWORKING: Bolt and screw rack, Dan Farley, Nicasio, second; wood items, Steve Johnson, Novato Miwoks, second.

FFA DAIRY: All breeds, two years, Robert Bissig, Tomales, first; senior calf, Domingo Rogers, Tomales, first; junior calf, Terry Zimmerman, Tomales, first.

4-H DAIRY: All breeds, three years, Billy Barboni, Nicasio, first.

HOLSTEIN-FRIESIAN: Three years, Nancy Corda, Nicasio, second; junior yearling, Nancy Corda, first.

$500 Damage Caused In San Rafael Fire

A fire in a debris container caused $500 damage to the Anchor-Standard Paint Store at 66 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, yesterday.

The container was just outside the building, but heat from fire at 9:32 p.m. shattered a window and damaged window casings of the store, owned by Allen W. Anderson of Novato. Cause has not been determined.

San Anselmo Pilot Lands Blazing Plane

A courageous Navy pilot from San Anselmo chose to land a flaming plane in Pennsylvania Thursday night rather than force his passengers to bail out.

Reserve Lt. Gerald N. Burton of 1251 San Anselmo Avenue was on a training flight from Minneapolis to Philadelphia, with eight other men aboard his PV-2, when an engine caught fire over Lockhaven, Pa.

Emergency measures to extinguish the fire failed, and flames were eating into the wing.

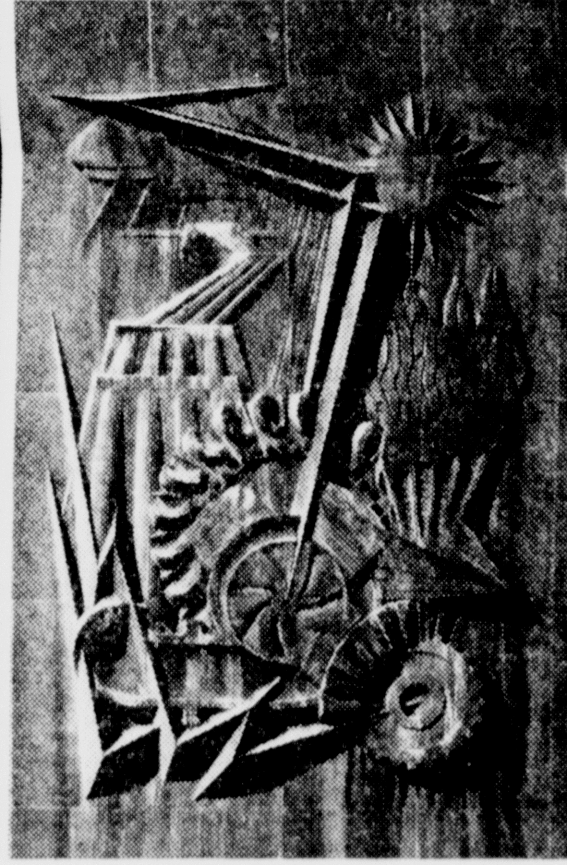

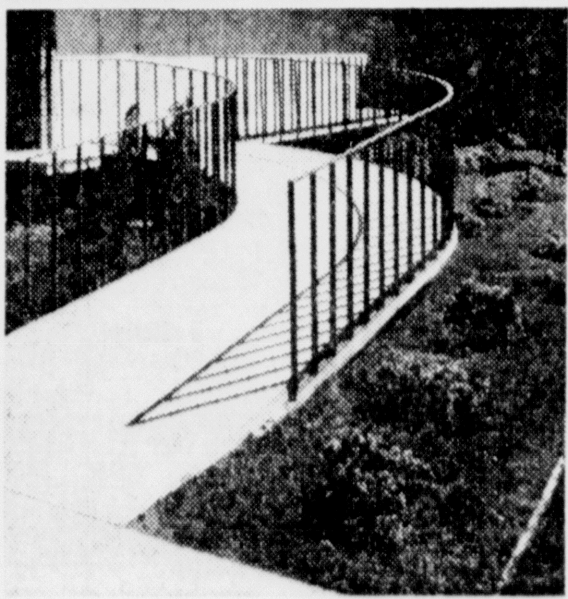

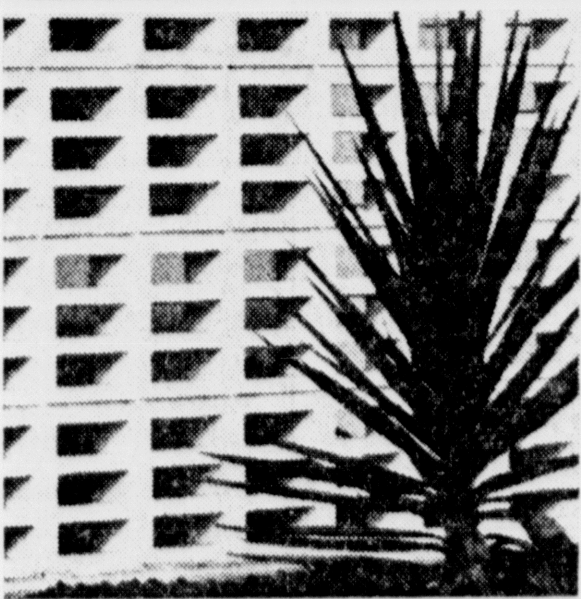

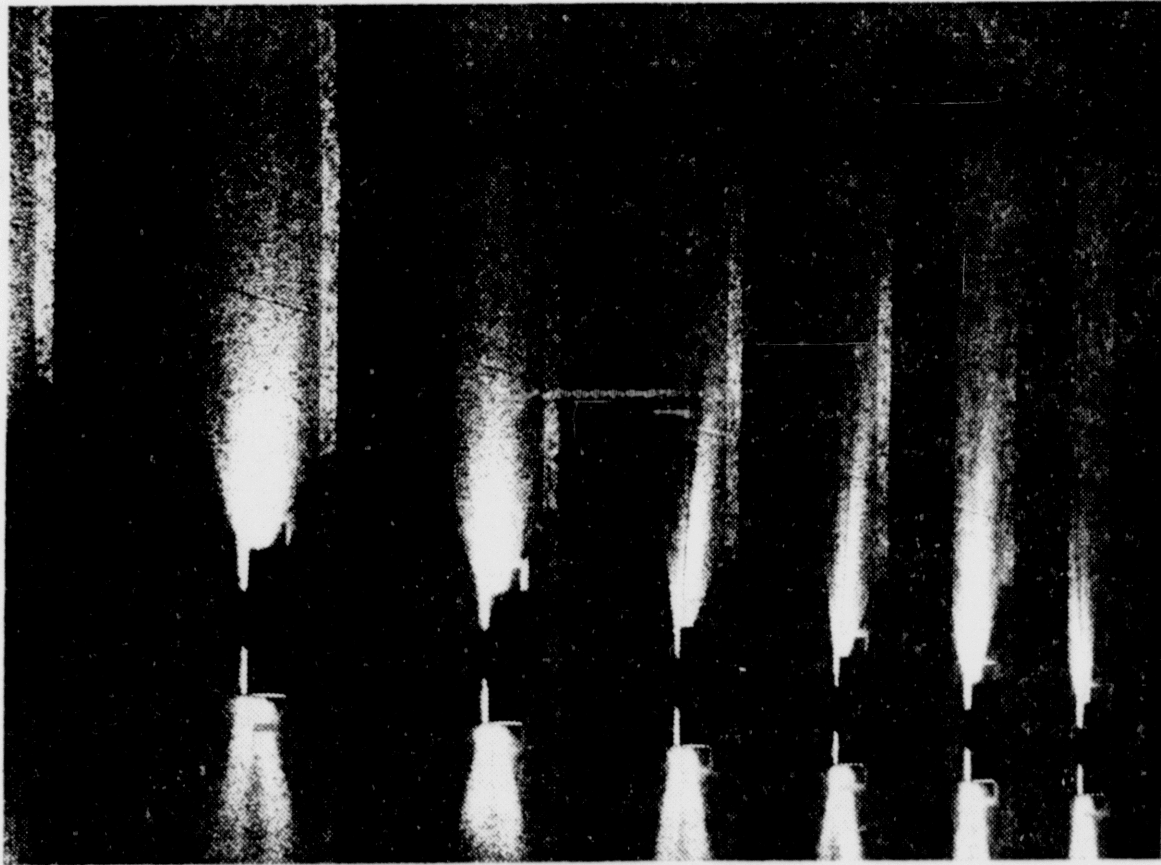

Burton was reluctant to order the crew to bail out, because three of his passengers were Navy personnel on their first flight and he feared they might not work their parachutes properly.

Advised by the Philadelphia control tower that he was above a small airfield, Burton put the plane into a steep dive to gain the field. The 3,000-foot runway was too short for the big Navy plane, which ran off the end on landing.

Burton and his co-pilot climbed out through cockpit windows, while the others went out rear doors. A moment after landing, the plane exploded and was a total loss. No one aboard was injured.

Burton, 27, is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School. His past duty with the Navy includes two tours of flying in Viet Nam.

Burton's wife, Barbara, and their three children are living at Oak Harbor, Wash., his former station, while he completes his reserve duty and his training as a flight engineer with Northwest Airlines.

That pretty next-door neighbor may be PG&E

In San Francisco, it may be the soft play of light accenting the textured stone face of the Larkin Substation. Or shadows moving across Robert Howard's bold sculpture on the walls of the Mission Substation.

In Chico, it's cactus bursting from a groundcover of redwood chips, sunning against a honeycomb of white stone. In Sacramento, it's a thin, graceful curve of iron welcoming visitors. And in Novato, it's fieldstone, native wood and greenery being kept green.

The emphasis is on beauty. Our Architectural Review Committee is making sure that new equipment and service facilities will blend with—and enhance—communities wherever possible.

PG&E is growing new gracefully—to be a functional and good-looking next-door neighbor.

Why Do People Stay Up For Late Movies?

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Why in the world do people stay up until all hours of the night watching the late, late—and very late—movies on television?

This is certainly a widespread practice nowadays, a mass opiate unique to our times. Having heard numerous guilt-ridden confessions of friends with television hangover, I decided, for everybody's good, to see a psychiatrist. I called on Dr. I. Jay Dunn, a senior psychiatrist at the Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Dr. Dunn began by noting that of course there are some positive reasons for this late-night viewing—plain enjoyment, relaxation, the value of the particular movie, the chance for a watcher "to think passively," which has some merit up to a point.

It is not unusual for an intellectual mind—or a person in a profession requiring the most concentrated thinking—to enjoy this mental break as a help to easing off, he added.

But all of these reasons could just as easily apply to earlier, prime-time viewing done with one's family or friends around. Is there any significance to the steady late, late viewing which is usually done alone? There certainly is, said Dr. Dunn, and the more significant reasons for devoted television-watching in the wee hours tend to be negative.

"Running away from one's self—not wanting to face one's self" is one such reason, said Dr. Dunn, "an extremely important one.

"The minute people get by themselves nowadays, they often get depressed. Especially in America, an extrovert country. Americans usually underwent before its fall. We have too much. We're bombarded with data of the senses. Fellini pointed this out very well in 'La Dolce Vita.' And unless you have a counter-principle for balance, the more you are bombarded, the more you need, the more you want—it's not the other way around."

Without the balance, Dr. Dunn said, the bombardment of data runs rampant with one's sense pleasures, without being able to gratify desires. "You can't satisfy pleasure by giving in to it," he said. "It only wants more. One then needs more dramatic events to hold one's attention. (He noted the trends in some of our creative arts.) People then can't shut off the sense pleasure. They have to keep it going until they fall asleep."

Marinites Get College Offices

Two Marin County residents have been appointed to executive positions at San Francisco State College, it was announced today.

Dr. Robert Picker, 39, of 234 Elvia Street, San Rafael, associate professor of geography, was named acting associate dean of the graduate division. He will coordinate curriculum development and student affairs.

James D. Andrews, 37, of 4 Sunrise Lane, Mill Valley, completing a dissertation for his Ph.D. at Stanford University, was appointed associate dean of students in charge of activities and housing.

Larkspur fire chief is George Bartram.

Pittsburgh Pirates Take League Lead From Giants

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Four professional teams in three sports once pursued Don Clendenon. Now a number of teams would like to pursue him right out of the National League.

Clendenon continued his torrid pace yesterday as the Pittsburgh Pirates swept a doubleheader from San Francisco 7-4 and 7-1 and replaced the Giants in first place in the National League pennant race.

The double victory vaulted the Pirates one game ahead of the Giants, who had been out of the top spot for only four of the previous 71 days. The teams conclude their three-game series tonight.

Clendenon was a baseball, basketball and football star in his high school and college days. He was all-state in Georgia in all three sports in his senior year and went on to win a total of 12 letters at Morehouse College.

Upon graduation he was sought by the Harlem Globetrotters, the New York Knicks, the Cleveland Browns and the Pirates. He selected the Pirates, and now he's headed for a circle that, at least for the Pirates, isn't so select anymore.

His four hits in the doubleheader raised his average to .294, putting him within reach of the .300 level that four teammates already have attained.

Clendenon, however, was hitting only .259 on June 25. But since then, in a stretch during which the Pirates have won 17 of 23 games, the 30-year-old first baseman has collected 32 hits in 83 at-bats for a .386 mark.

The hits are the most any Pirate has had in that period while his .386 average is second only to Manny Mota's .439. Also in that time Clendenon has lifted his homer total from seven to 15 and his runs batted in total from 28 to 48.

Elsewhere in the NL, Philadelphia blanked Los Angeles 3-0 before bowing 3-1. New York swept Houston 4-2 and 7-5. Atlanta downed Cincinnati 9-6 and Chicago whipped St. Louis 7-2 and lost 4-3 in 11 innings.

In the American League, Baltimore edged Chicago 3-2 after losing 5-1. Cleveland bombed Detroit 7-3 and 15-2. New York swept Minnesota 4-2 and 9-6. California shut out Washington 5-0 before losing 3-1 and Boston and Kansas City traded 10-innings, 3-2 decisions.

Chris Short pitched a two-hitter in the Phillies' opening-game victory. Dick Groat scored their first run in the sixth while Los Angeles pitcher Joe Moeller argued with umpire Mel Steiner.

The Dodgers came back in the nightcap, scoring all three runs in the eighth inning after Tony Taylor booted Wes Covington's grounder. Jim Gilliam doubled in the tying run and scored the go-ahead tally as John Roseboro singled.

Pitcher Gerry Arrigo led New York's first-game attack, driving in three runs with a pair of doubles. Ed Kranepool provided the power in the second contest, belting a two-run homer and a double. Felix Mantilla hit a two-run homer for Houston in the nightcap.

Atlanta won its fourth straight game on the strength of Hank Aaron's two-run homer in the seventh and his sacrifice fly in the eighth. Pete Rose hit two homers for Cincinnati while Don Pavletich hit one.

Curt Flood brought St. Louis its opening-game triumph, hitting Bob Hendley's first pitch for a home run in the 11th.

Billy Williams sparked the Cubs in the second game, collecting a single, double, triple and homer, in that order, and driving in two runs and scoring four. Orlando Cepeda homered for the Cardinals.

JIM MURRAY

Casey Stengel Is In A Class By Himself

If I were Snow White today, I think I would count noses. If I were in the Black Forest, I think I'd see if Rumpelstiltskin had taken a powder. I think one of the pages of Hans Christian Andersen's fairy tales is missing.

Right there in the flickering television screen in the shimmering heat of St. Louis was this refugee from Hansel and Gretel, this troll, elf, leprechaun.

YOU KNOW IT was nothing from this world because it was wearing a coat with the temperature in the low hundreds. You kept waiting for Walt Disney to come out and explain that this was a scene from a forthcoming Wonderful World of Color.

The ears were pointed and the eyes were the earnest, inquisitive peepers of a creature in a tree house. The language belong to no country or no time—it was the creature's own.

The craggy face had rivulets of time and looked like a gigantic pot of silly putty. If there were tears coursing down the peaks and valley it would have looked like a relief map of the Urals.

IT WAS CHARLES Dillon Stengel back in action—the well-known banking figure, three-quarters of a century of living history, Mr. Baseball.

He was talking about Ted Williams, the hitter and his partner in entry into Baseball's Hall of Fame this summer but the conversation flew about like a fly over a sugar bowl, touched down lightly now and then on Williams and Willie Mays, not to mention Jake Daubert, Rube Marquard, John McGraw, Kansas City and the difficulties of the pickoff play.

YOU LOOK at Casey Stengel and you see straw hats and open trolleys, sparrows in the hat and the cops leading him off the field after he had punched a pitcher. You see the old Polo Grounds and hot, steamy afternoons in Philadelphia and 50 years. You see him waddling home on gnarled, oaken old legs, running out his inside-the-park homer to beat the Ruthian Yankees, you see him as the hero of more books than Frank Merriwell, the most recent of which are Lindsey Nelson's "Backstage at the Mets" and Maury Allen's "Now Wait a Minute, Casey."

THE AUTHORS rejoice in Casey, as you do, as the most superbly natural comic of his time and place. Casey Stengel in a bank, hair plastered down with an overdose of Lucky Tiger, lumpy fingers bent in his belt buckle is as incongruous as Robert Hutchins in a dugout.

You see Casey as Lindsey approaches him for his plans for the Mets for the 1965 season. "We got to work on our defense against triple plays," Casey told him in a rare burst of succinctness.

YOU SEE HIM talking to Bill Terry, the one-time oracle of the Polo Grounds where Casey's team was playing. "What was your pitching strategy in the Polo Grounds, Mr. Terry?" And Bill answering: "You got to pitch everybody outside, make them hit to that deep, 500-foot centerfield and don't let them pull the ball." Casey nodded. "We been," he admitted, "and they're hitting my young men in the centerfield bleachers."

You see him turning his bright blue eyes on his young Yale pitcher, Ken MacKenzie, asking for advice on how to pitch to the Giants. "Pretend they're the Harvards," was Casey's suggestion.

WHEN HIS outfielder named Napoleon dropped a fly ball over his head, Casey was saddened. "You'd think," he said, "Napoleon would know how to retreat."

You see him with his star loser, pitcher Roger Craig, as Rog was complaining the heat made his hands slippery and his pitches wild. "Well," said Casey, "you're standing on two hundred tons of dirt. Why wouldn't you use some of it?" You see his "Muddling Marv" Thorneberry hitting a triple but getting tagged out for failing to touch first and Casey suddenly stopping his ranting and raving when his coach whispered something in his ear. "What'd he say?" the press wanted to know. "He said not to argue too long," Casey said, "because the man didn't touch second neither."

AND THEN somebody wanted to know why he kept rugged Ron Swoboda, a ball-dropper, on the squad as a youngster. Ron's grandmother had recently married a Chinese restaurateur. "He's a very unusual fellow," explained Casey. "He can hit the fence on one bounce and his grandfather's a Chinaman."

The Hall of Fame for Casey Stengel? I should think so! If not, they better clear everybody else out of it. Beginning with Ty Cobb.

Perry Goes For Giants Tonight

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — And there are the San Francisco Giants, down in second place by a full game and beaten in five of their last six contests.

Battling to bring his club out of a sudden swoon, manager Herman Franks planned to start Gaylord Perry (12-2) tonight against the Pittsburgh Pirates' Bob Veale (11-5) in the last game of a short road trip that has been no cinch.

After bowing to the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-5, Saturday in the 15th inning, the Giants lost a double-bill yesterday to the Pirates, 7-4 and 7-1.

The double dip dropped the Giants a full game behind Pittsburgh which now has won six of its last eight.

Tommy Sisk scattered nine San Francisco hits in the night cap to post his fourth win of the year against one defeat while the loss went to former Pirate Bob Priddy (3-1) who was pressed into a starter's role.

Priddy was wrecked in the fourth frame when Gene Alley's single, Roberto Clemente's triple and Jose Pagan's infield out brought across two Pirate runs.

Rookie Gene Michaels doubled in another Pittsburgh run his first time at bat as a major leaguer one frame later. Then a triple by ex-Giant Jose Pagan, a walk to Don Clendenon and Bill Mazeroski's triple brought across two more Bucs in the sixth. Clendenon added a homer with one on in the eighth.

Willie McCovey's double and Jim Ray Hart's single accounted for the lone San Francisco run during the second.

The Giants cut the Pirates' four run lead to 4-3 in the eighth inning. Then a triple by Clendenon off Joe Gibbon sparked a three-run Pittsburgh surge in the eighth. Gibbon, another ex-Pirate, also gave up four singles during this frame.

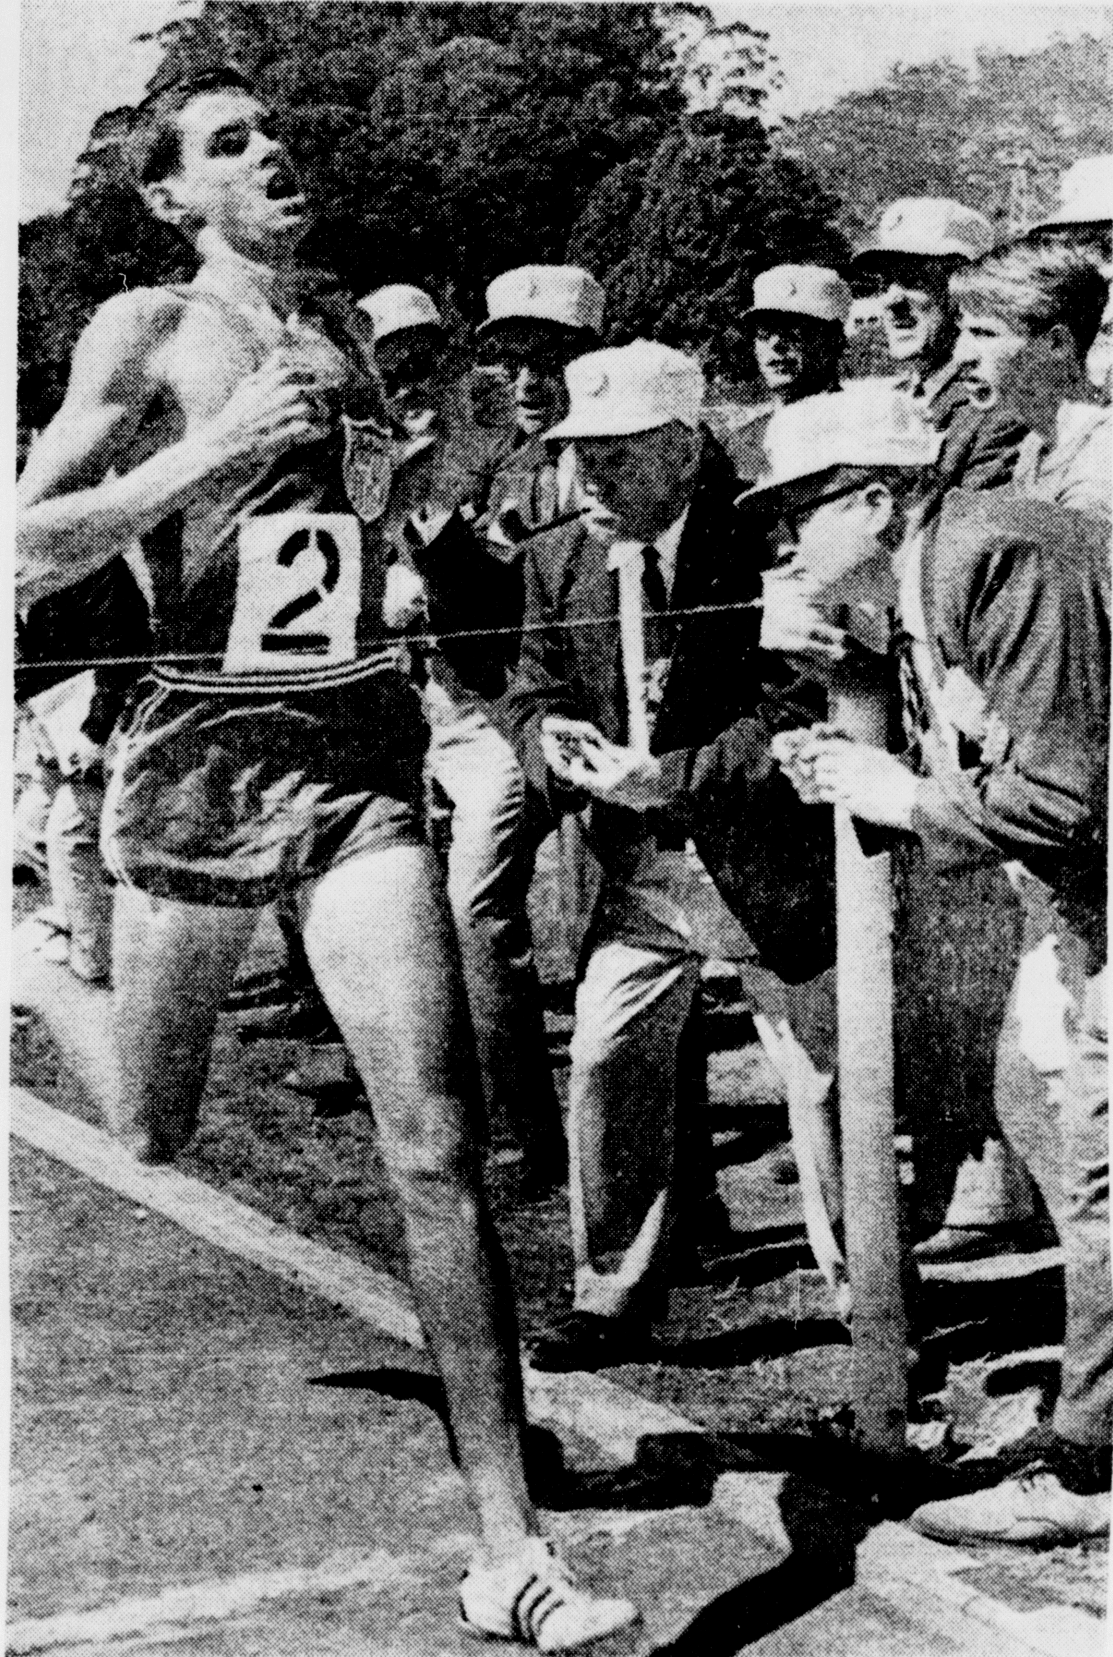

Willie Mays socked a triple and Jim Davenport singled to give the Giants a run in the first inning and McCovey added a two run homer in the eighth. However, it wasn't enough for the Big Bombers from Bridge-town.

Steve Blass bested them in the opener to post his eighth win. The loser was Ron Herbel, now 3-3.

San Anselmo Youth Sets Nat'l Mark

Mike Snyderhous of San Anselmo leaped in to a national record yesterday when he jumped 121 feet in the boys division water ski jumping event at San Marcos.

Snyderhous, who is 16 and has been participating in competitive water skiing for three years, broke the former record held by Billy Spencer of Florida by two feet.

Saturday's event was one of several meets sponsored nationally by American Water Skiing Assn. A similar competitive event is scheduled in San Diego next weekend.

Guests Triumph At Indian Valley

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Washington and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Norval MacDonald placed first in Saturday's fifth annual Indian Valley Golf Club Mixed Couples Invitational Best-Ball Foursome tournament, scoring a 51.

Eric Baker of Indian Valley took the hole-in-one tourney in the men's division and the women's division was led by Mrs. A. McConnell of Marin Golf Club.

Other results in the tournament were:

Second Place—Mr. and Mrs. Vern Flinn and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, 52.

Third Place—Mrs. Edwin Little, Eric Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Armond Lacombe, 53.

Fourth Place—Mr. and Mrs. John Gaylord and Mr. and Mrs. Norris Seastrom, 55.

49er Rookies Scrimmage Wednesday

MORAGA, Calif. (UPI)—A total of 24 veterans and 20 rookies were in the San Francisco 49ers' training camp going into today's drills. Most of the rest of the veterans are expected in by Wednesday.

In weekend developments, running back Gary Lewis checked in at 252 pounds and was told to lose 20 pounds soon or else face fines.

Rookie Paul Fuehrer, 220-pound free agent from Southeast Louisiana State, flunked the physical because of an injured ankle and was told to go home.

Rookie Bob Daugherty, eighth round draft pick from Tulsa, was not cleared for action because of fluid on the knee and quarterback Jim LeClair from C.W. Post College also was sidelined by a cyst.

Coach Jack Christiansen announced that tackle Jim Norton would switch to defense this season. The coach also said that the first scrimmage would take place Wednesday morning so that the rookies can bump heads with each other before they have to face the veterans.

Results of Friday's Round Captain Tournament at Mill Valley Women's Golf Club were:

Class A—Marcia Lee, 83-19; 64. Mrs. Bill Brown, 83-18—65; Mrs. Halveta Walker, 85-20—65.

Class B—Mrs. W. L. Short, 90-26—64; Mrs. Fred Greenland, 91-24—67; Mrs. Hugh Cavelli, 96-27—69.

Class C—Mrs. Francis Fogarty, 101-32—69; Mrs. Harold Wagstaff, 102-29—73; Mrs. Joe Wittenmeier, 105-32—73.

World Mark At Berkeley Meet

By JACK STEVENSON

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Kansas teen-ager Jim Ryun handed the Iron Curtain countries an unexpected return blow to their slap at his nation when his flying feet returned the world record in the classic mile to the United States after a 29-year absence.

For if Poland hadn't followed the lead of Russia and pulled out of dual meets against the USA track and field forces in a political move against U.S. activities in Viet Nam, the 19-year-old Ryun wouldn't have run the mile yesterday.

He wouldn't have had the chance to blaze four laps in 3 minutes 51.3 seconds, clipping a remarkable 2.3 off the record held by Frenchman Michel Jazy. Instead, he would have been running a 1,500-meter race, the metric mile, against the Poles.

Ryun, a University of Kansas freshman, now adds his mile mark of the world record of 1:44.9 in the half mile he has pending recognition. His 880 mark came at Terre Haute, Ind., on June 10. The previous month in Los Angeles, the youngster from East Wichita bettered the American two-mile record at 8:25.2.

Not since Britain's Sydney Wooderson broke the record of another Kansan, Glenn Cunningham, with a 4:06.4 in 1937, has an American owned the mile record. Cunningham ran a 4:06.8 in 1934.

En route to the mile, Ryun also was clocked with the second fastest 1,500 meters of all time—3:36.1, an American record topped only by the 3:35.6 by Herb Elliott of Australia in the 1960 Olympics.

Standing 6-foot-2 and weighing 153, Ryun says, "I like any distance—a half mile, 1,500 meters, mile or two miles."

He plans to compete in the half mile next weekend at Los Angeles where runners from Australia, New Zealand and Britain substitute for the Russians. Then he'll take a vacation from track until fall when he joins the Kansas cross country varsity.

When Poland withdrew from the scheduled dual meet a week ago, the All American Invitational was substituted, keeping the same events as on the original schedule but substituting the mile for 1,500 meters and the mile relay for the 1,600-meter baton passing event.

"All of us in the race were determined to run our personal best," said the quietly modest Ryun, who already had done a 3:53.7, just one-tenth off Jazy's record.

Jim ran his mile on the University of California's Edwards Stadium track with two taped blisters on the inside of his right foot and he developed another on the inside of the left foot during the race. He said they didn't bother him and termed conditions "just great."

The day was warm and only a mild breeze blew. Richard Romo of Texas went out on the pace first and led until near the half-mile point when Oregon's Wade Bell took over with Ryun just a couple of steps behind. At the 1,000-yard point, Jim took over and from then was on his own.

Ryun said the pace suited him, "but I ran the race I wanted."

Atherton Lad Wins Golf Title

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The only thing husky Jim Wiechers didn't like about winning the 63rd Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament yesterday was that he had to beat his friends to do it.

"It is very hard to play your pals," said the 21-year-old Wiechers after he had defeated Bob E. Smith 3 and 2 in the scheduled 36-hole finals match over the Edina Country Club course.

"It's hard getting serious; it seems like we're just practicing and having fun," added Wiechers.

Wiechers is from Atherton, and just recently graduated from Santa Clara University. Smith, from Sacramento, still has some schooling left at Sacramento State.

The two finalists, along with Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael and San Jose State and Ross Randall of Alameda, drove here together from California.

Wiechers beat Cerrudo 3 and 2 in Friday's quarter-finals.

The quartet left here for Chicago and will spend the next two weeks playing each other for fun in Chicago and Philadelphia before rolling on to Pinehurst, N.C., for the Western Amateur Aug. 3-7. Smith is defending champion in that one.

Wiechers fell two holes behind Smith twice on the first 18 holes yesterday and still trailed by one hole at the midway point. He then birdied the fourth hole in the afternoon round and took the lead for the first time on the fifth when Smith started a run of bogeys.

Wiechers also won the ninth on Smith's bogey, but he took a double-bogey on the 10th to give it back.

Wiechers also won the 14th, and another Smith bogey on the 15th ended the match.

Sohner Wins Softball Opener, 2-0

Sohner Tree Service could garner only one hit—a second-inning homer by catcher Jess Munyon—but still managed to trim the Sonoma Athletic Club, 2-0 in Santa Rosa last night in the Tri-County District Softball Tournament.

Hamilton Field bowed to the same Sonoma team, 4-3, Saturday night and now must play Dee-Jay Glass tomorrow night in a loser's bracket game.

By winning last night, Sohner remains in the winner's bracket of the 14-team double-elimination tournament and will face the Sebastopol Merchants at 9:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Because it is the defending champion from the tri-counties of Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino, Sohner was given a first round bye.

After a rocky start in which the Sonoma team collected five of their six hits in the first three innings, Sohner ace Morey Swarm settled down and retired the last 11 Sonoma batters in order.

Swarm struck out five and walked none.

Munyon provided Sohner with the only run necessary as he opened the second with a line drive home run down the right field line.

The Treemen added another run in that inning when Morey Swarm was safe on an error and eventually scored on another Sonoma error.

Tough-luck loser Walt Tyler fanned four and walked none for Sonoma.

The victory was Sohner's 43rd of the season against only 13 setbacks.

Line score: R H E
Sonoma 000 000 0-0 3
Sohner 020 000 X 2 1 0
Tyler (LP) and Cussins; M. Swarm (WP) and Munyon; Home runs: Munyon (5).

Kansas Golfer Wins Public Links Crown

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — If you dig into the records there probably never was a major golf championship that brought more smiles to duffers than the National Public Links Tournament.

The 41st crown of this grass roots competition was won Saturday by Monty Kaser of Wichita, Kan., a 155-pounder who captured the state amateur title in Kansas in 1962 and was runner-up this year.

He defeated a big, blond blaster, 190-pound Dave Ojala of Two Harbors, Minn., a pharmacy student at the University of Minnesota 6 and 5 over the scheduled 36-hole route Saturday.

The Brown Deer municipal course is a fine test of golf, stretching 6,765 yards with a par 35-36-71. Kaser was nine over par in defeating Ojala, who was 17 over.

"I was worried that an 80 wasn't very good until I saw all this," said the veteran public links weekend player. "This makes me feel 10 feet tall."

Kaser was followed by his pretty freckle-faced wife and Ojala had his biggest rooting section from his mom and dad.

"We are going home as soon as we can because we have friends baby sitting for our two children," said Kaser, a payroll time keeper in an aircraft factory. "I came here with the inte-tion to win. Scores don't mean anything in match play anyway."

Kaser was 4-up after the morning round by shooting a 75. He moved 5-up after 27 holes and closed out the match on the 31st, with a regulation 4 as Ojala bogeyed.

"My goal now is to try to qualify for the national amateur this year," said Kaser.

BERKELEY HIGHLIGHTS

Track Records Topple

BERKELEY, Calif., (AP) — Jim Ryun's fastest ever mile topped two days of competition in the All American Invitational track and field meet which saw records of all types rewritten.

The 19-year-old Kansan's time of 3 minutes 51.3 broke the world mark.

As the stars head for Los Angeles and competition against an aggregation from New Zealand, Australia and Britain on Saturday and Sunday, they leave California's Edwards Stadium which saw:

Three American men's records, two American women's records, the fastest 10,000 meter run on American soil, and fifteen new stadium records plus a pair of existing ones tied.

Ryun's great run brought two of the U.S. marks — his mile time and en route a 3:36.1 for 1,500 meters. Art Walker of the Southern California Striders notched the other one with a 54.7 3/4 triple jump.

Ron Larrieu of Santa Monica Calif., ran the 10,000 meters in 28:54.1.

American women's records fell to Ranae Bair of San Diego in the javelin with a throw of 188 feet 11 inches and to Charlette Cooke of Los Angeles with 2:04.7 in the 800.

Additionally, stadium records were:

5,000 meters — Tracy Smith, Pasadena, Calif., 13:42.0 which also better the record for three miles which is 188 yards short.

Discus — Al Oerter, New York, 186.2.

Pole vault — Paul Wilson, Southern California frosh, and Bob Seagren, Southern California Striders, 16-6.

Javelin — Ed Red, Pasadena, Calif., AA, 270.4.

3,000-meter steeplechase — Pat Traynor, Long Beach 49ers, 8:47.2.

High jump — Otis Burrell, Nevada, 7-1.

Shot put — Randy Matson, Texas A&M, 67-2 1/4.

400-meter intermediate hurdles — Geoff Vanderstock, Mt. San Antonio College, 50.2.

1-mile relay — Lee Evans, Tommie Smith, Bob Frey, Theon Lewis — 3:04.7.

Equalling stadium marks were Don Shy of San Diego State with 1.37 in the 110-meter high hurdles and Lee Evans of San Jose City College with 45.7 in the 400 meter dash.

Nichols Captures Minnesota Classic

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — That putter Bobby Nichols swears won the $20,000 first-place money for him yesterday in the Minnesota Golf Classic may have the manufacturer doing a land office business soon.

Nichols, who shot a one-under-par 70 yesterday for a 72-hole total of 14-under-par 270 that gave him the Minnesota title by one stroke, doesn't even know who makes the putter. But he plans to find out.

"I'm going to call the guy in Chicago who gave it to me and find out who makes it," said Nichols, the 1964 Professional Golfers Association champion who hadn't won a tournament since the 1965 Houston Golf Classic.

The 30-year-old Kentuckian picked up the putter, which he has dubbed his Branding Iron because that's what it reminds him of, at the pro-am tourney in Odessa, Tex., two weeks ago.

"There is no doubt in my mind that this new putter won this tournament for me," said Nichols after he had staved off the final-round threats of three other pros to win at Keller golf course.

"I really can't explain exactly what it does that helps me," Nichols added. "It's just a feeling of confidence I get with it. It has great balance, but it really isn't a great deal different from other putters."

Nichols said as far as he knows the putter has no name. "I call it my Branding Iron."

Nichols shot a five-under-par 66 Saturday to wrest the lead from Cupit and carried a stroke lead into the finals. Cupit birdied four of the first five holes, but Nichols birdies three of them to stay a stroke ahead.

Then Cupit bogeyed the 8th, 10th and 13th around a birdie on No. 12 to keep from catching Nichols, who also took bogeys on 11 and 13.

Schlee, 27-year-old tour rookie from Sun City, Ariz., had the hottest final round among the leaders, shooting a 66. That gave him a 13-under and second-place money of $21,000—Schlee's biggest payday.

Cupit dropped into a third-place tie with the 27-year-old Dill, of Austin, Tex. Each won $6,250.

Doug Sanders finished fifth with 273 and won $4,300. Tied at 274 were U.S. Open champion Billy Casper, Steve Spray and Dan Sikes.

Girl, 15, Sets Jumping Record

PINE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) — Elizabeth Allan, a 15-year-old stylist from Winter Park, Fla., set a women's world jumping record yesterday with a leap of 106 feet as she won the women's division of the eighth annual Master's Water Ski Tournament.

Rod Laver Wins Again

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Rod Laver defeated fellow Australian Ken Rosewall for the singles title and then teamed with Butch Buchholz of St. Louis to win the doubles title and make a clean sweep of the U.S. Pro Tennis Championships at Longwood Cricket Club.

Laver defeated defending champion Rosewall yesterday 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 8-10 and 6-3 for the singles title. He and Buchholz defeated Rosewall and Australian Lew Hoad 6-4, 2-6, 6-4 in the doubles.

The double win gave Laver a total of $4,170 for the tournament and raised his earnings for the current pro tour to $22,314 in seven tournaments.

Laver and Rosewall fought for two hours and 22 minutes. Rosewall, two-time champion at Longwood, defeated Laver in last year's final.

Rosewall got $2,700 for his second-place finish.

Dodgers' Joe Moeller Yaps As Run Scores

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There's more than one way to lose a baseball game. Take Joe Moeller. He uses his jaw.

Moeller argued the Los Angeles Dodgers out of the first game of a doubleheader yesterday with the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-0. But the Dodgers observed proper silence in the second game and won, 3-1.

In the first game, Moeller (0-2) and Phillie Phanatic Short dealt on shutout terms until the sixth inning.

With the Phils' Dick Groat on base via a single, Tony Taylor chopped an infield roller. Moeller raced to cover first, and umpire Mel Steiner called the Philadelphia second baseman safe.

Moeller argued heatedly with

Steiner, the ball clutched tightly in his fist, as Groat alertedly headed for the plate. First baseman Dick Stuart frantically tried to get the ball from Moeller, but by the time the Dodger hurler realized what was happening and threw to the plate, he was too late.

"I already had the ball in my glove and my foot on the bag when Taylor stepped on my foot," Moeller said. "There was no way he could be called safe."

"But Steiner told me that the ball and Taylor arrived at the same time and that was why he called him safe. Well, it was a rotten call."

Short (11-5) went on to pitch a two-hitter. He retired the first 16 Dodgers before Jeff Torborg singled to right.

Claude Osteen allowed just six hits in the second game while picking up his 12th win against seven defeats. Ray Herbert (1-4) was the loser.

Moeller's mental error in the first game was matched by a Taylor blunder in the second. Philadelphia led, 1-0, going into the eighth, but a Taylor error led to a three-run rally. Phil Regan shut out the Phils the final two innings to save Osteen's victory.

The Dodgers, three games out of first after Pittsburgh's double win over the San Francisco Giants, wind up their three-game set with the Phillies tonight. The Dodgers' Sandy Koufax (16-4) will oppose Larry Jackson (8-7).

U. S. Swimmers Defeat Improved Russian Team

MOSCOW (AP) — "Our kids just had a little more experience," Coach Don Gambrell said today after his American swimming team took an 11-6 unofficial victory over Russia yesterday. The strong Soviet squad set two world records in defeat.

Gambrell called the Soviet team much improved over their showing at the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo and predicted they would be tough to beat at the 1968 Olympics.

The U.S. coach, from Pasadena City College, said the Soviets showed good style and conditioning but need work on tactics and "the kind of experience that can only be gained in international competition." Several of the Americans shot past Soviet rivals with better turns.

Gambrell called the American team "just great. They really rose to the occasion."

The American men edged the Russians 6-4, and the U.S. girls coasted by the Soviet women 5-2 according to the unofficial tally.

The Soviets called the two-day meet at the open-air Lenin Stadium pool a friendly match between swimmers, not nations. They kept no team score.

The Americans unofficially kept score by awarding one point to the winner in each event. There were four American double winners.

Soviet girls set the world records.

Irina Posdnyakova, 13, set a new mark of 2:43.0, in the 200-meter breaststroke Saturday.

Galina Prozumenshchikova came back the next day in the 100-meter breaststroke to set a new record of 1:15.7.

Don Schollander, who took four Olympic gold medals at Tokyo, turned in the fastest time of his career in the 100-meter freestyle, 53.2 seconds, and won the 200-meter free style the next day.

Schollander, 20, now a Yale undergraduate, was hampered by a bruised left shoulder he thought might keep him out of competition. But he said he felt confident once he hit the water.

Charles Hickcox of Phoenix, Ariz., won two backstroke events. "It felt too easy," Hickcox, an Indiana University student, said after winning the 200-meter race in 2:13.0, some 3.7 seconds better than his previous best.

Martha Randall, an 18-year-old brunette from Wayne, Pa., won the 100 and the 400-meter freestyle events and finished second to 15-year-old Judy Humbarger of Miami, Fla., in the 400-meter individual medley.

Miss Humbarger took a second victory in the 100-meter backstroke. "My stroke felt pretty good," she admitted later.

Brother-Sister Act Wins National Clay Court Title

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — When it was over Cliff Richey 19, ignored the pain in his legs and tossed his racket high in the air.

The Texas teen-ager had won a major prize—the National Clay Courts men's singles—and he knew what it meant.

"This was a big tournament," said Richey, who could soon be pressing Dennis Ralton and Arthur Ashe for top recognition States," he said.

Ralston, ranked No. 1, was eliminated in the quarter-finals. He said he plans to quit the amateur tour at the end of the current season. His defection would leave only Ashe, who did not enter the Clay Courts, ahead of the improving Richey.

The 5-foot-9 dynamo from Dallas defeated part-time player Frank Froehling, New York City, 13-11, 6-1, 6-3 in a gruelling fourth consecutive year. She defeated Stephanie De Fina, Hollywood, Fla. 6-2, 6-2.

Ralston, defending singles from the tournament. The Bakersfield, Calif., star teamed with Clark Graebner, Beechwood, Ohio, to defeat Froehling and Charles Pasarell, Santee, Puerto Rico, in the doubles, 6-1, 8-10, 6-4, 6-8, 6-4.

Richey, who won the Western Open at Indianapolis last weekend, fought to hide the pain from Froehling in the final game. "If he had won it, it would have meant I would have had to play at least two more games to win the set," said Richey.

Froehling knew it anyway, but there was nothing he could do. He was beaten after the heartbreaking loss of the 24-game opening set.

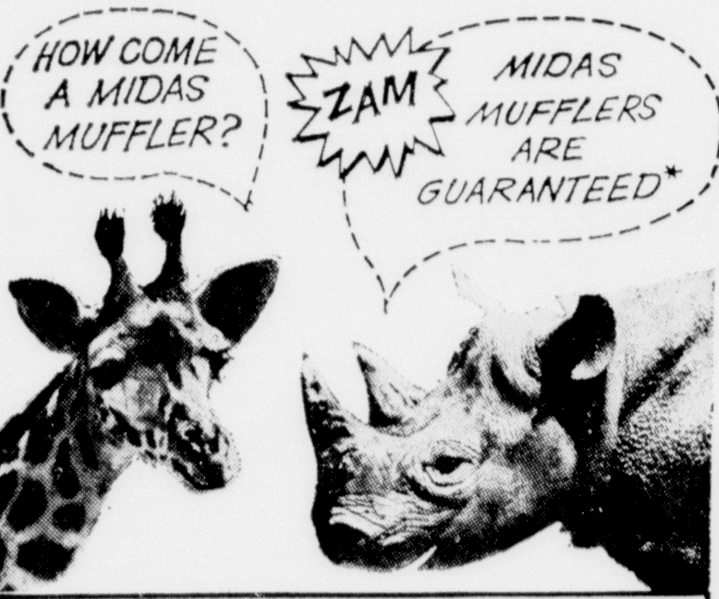

Froehling, an insurance man, folded under Richey's machine-like ground shots in the second

McCluskey Wins Feature Race

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Roger McCluskey of Tucson, Ariz., took the lead at the start and withstood a late challenge from Mario Andretti last night to win the feature USAC sprint car race here.

McCluskey, the season-point leader, finished the 30-lap feature with a three-length lead over the driver from Nazareth, Pa.

George Snider of Fresno, Calif., finished third. The races moved to Muskogee after a tragedy-marred night Saturday in Tulsa, where Ron Lux, a 26-year-old rookie from Buffalo, N.Y., was killed in a three-car smash-up on the third lap of the feature.

Teacher Batters Bicycle Record

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A Los Gatos grade school teacher has bettered the national 25-mile bicycle record.

Bob Tetzlaff posted a time of 1 hour, 1 minute and 3.7 seconds yesterday in a race on the streets of downtown San Jose.

ed. I didn't really care when I took the lead. I ran about as I had planned.

"I felt heavy from 600 yards to the half, then I felt much better until the final quarter when I started to get heavy again."

Still he went that final 440 in 56.3 seconds.

"When you run a good race, you always feel you could have done better," he added and then predicted someone would lower the record to 3:50 before the end of the year.

His solid times at 220 yard intervals were unofficially clocked at 29.1 seconds; 57.7; 1:25.8; 1:55.4; 2:25.6; 2:55.0; and 3:23.1. Three official watches caught him at 3:51.3 breaking the tape.

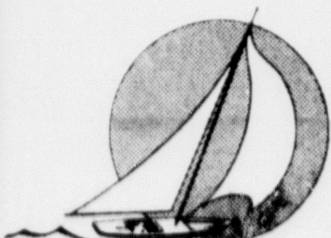

Ryun has been running in major meets since he was 15. He arrived in Berkeley only two days before his race and didn't set foot on the track until yesterday.

"I rested more than usual during the week," he said and explained that during a season he usually runs about 50 miles a week.

Demonstrators At Hilton Seek Rehiring Of Negroes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Four hundred demonstrators appeared before the Hilton Hotel yesterday to protest the dismissal of 19 Negroes from the hotel's staff and threaten mass sit-ins by midweek if they are not reinstated.

The group marched to the Hilton, the city's largest hotel, from a rally at City Hall where several speakers condemned the sentences given 200 demonstrators in the 1964 Sheraton-Palace Hotel and Auto Row sit-ins.

Assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco and Supervisor Terry Francois denounced the sentences, which city judges have recently begun ordering executed, as far too severe.

The leaders, including several clergymen, spoke with Hilton officials and demanded the 19 workers be taken back and more Negroes.

Outside the downtown hotel, the group chanted and marched near the main entrance.

A spokesman, William Bradley, told the crowd no decision was reached at the meeting but that another session was scheduled for today. He said it would begin when he gets out of bed.

He then told the group, "If you don't hear or read about a settlement by Wednesday, I want all of you to come here as fast as you can run." Hilton officials did not comment.

Escaped Inmate Gets One Day Of Freedom

An escaped San Quentin inmate was captured Saturday afternoon in San Anselmo, after one day of freedom.

The escapee, Herman Edward Eyrich, 30, of Butte County, was arrested by San Anselmo Police Officer Vincent Sloane while walking east on Red Hill Avenue toward San Rafael at 2:35 p.m.

Eyrich's whereabouts were reported to San Anselmo police at 2:30 p.m. by an unidentified person who had given him a lift to the hub.

Eyrich did not resist arrest and said nothing while being held at the county jail for return to San Quentin, Sloane said.

When arrested, Eyrich was wearing a puce shirt and dark blue baggy pants and prison shoes, police reported. He was carrying new maps of Marin and California and two paper bags containing toilet articles, including 12 tubes of toothpaste.

San Anselmo police said that the toilet articles bore price tags from the Bank Pharmacy, 83 Broadway, Fairfax, indicating Eyrich had been in Fairfax.

Eyrich escaped from the waterfront area outside the prison walls, but inside the fence, by hiding in the second van of a doubletrailer rig Friday. He was missing at the noon count at the waterfront mess hall.

A Nielsen Freight Lines truck had been in the area at the time of Eyrich's escape. The driver later told prison officials he left the second van parked at Francisco Boulevard near Belam Boulevard, San Rafael. Then he made deliveries in San Rafael from the first van.

When he returned to the second van, he found that a hole had been battered through the roof.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said that Eyrich, a diminutive 5 feet 4 and weighing 132 pounds, apparently smashed the fiberglass roof of the van with a hand truck he found inside the van.

Park said that he did not know where Eyrich got his non-prison clothes, but he may have haken them from a car.

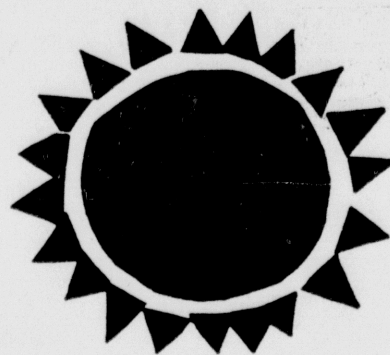

Eyrich, who is serving a six-month to 15-year sentence for burglary, will appear before the prison disciplinary board, and his case will be referred to the district attorney, Park said.

The penalty for "walk away" escapes is from six months to five years.

Teen Boy Attempts Act Of Lewdness

The sheriff's office received a report Friday that a boy between the ages of 14 and 16 attempted to commit a lewd act with a 10-year-old girl in Bolinas.

The girl's mother reported that the youth offered to give the girl a ride home, but instead drove her to Mesa Road and attempted to undress her. The girl fled.
